VISTA

PANORAMA

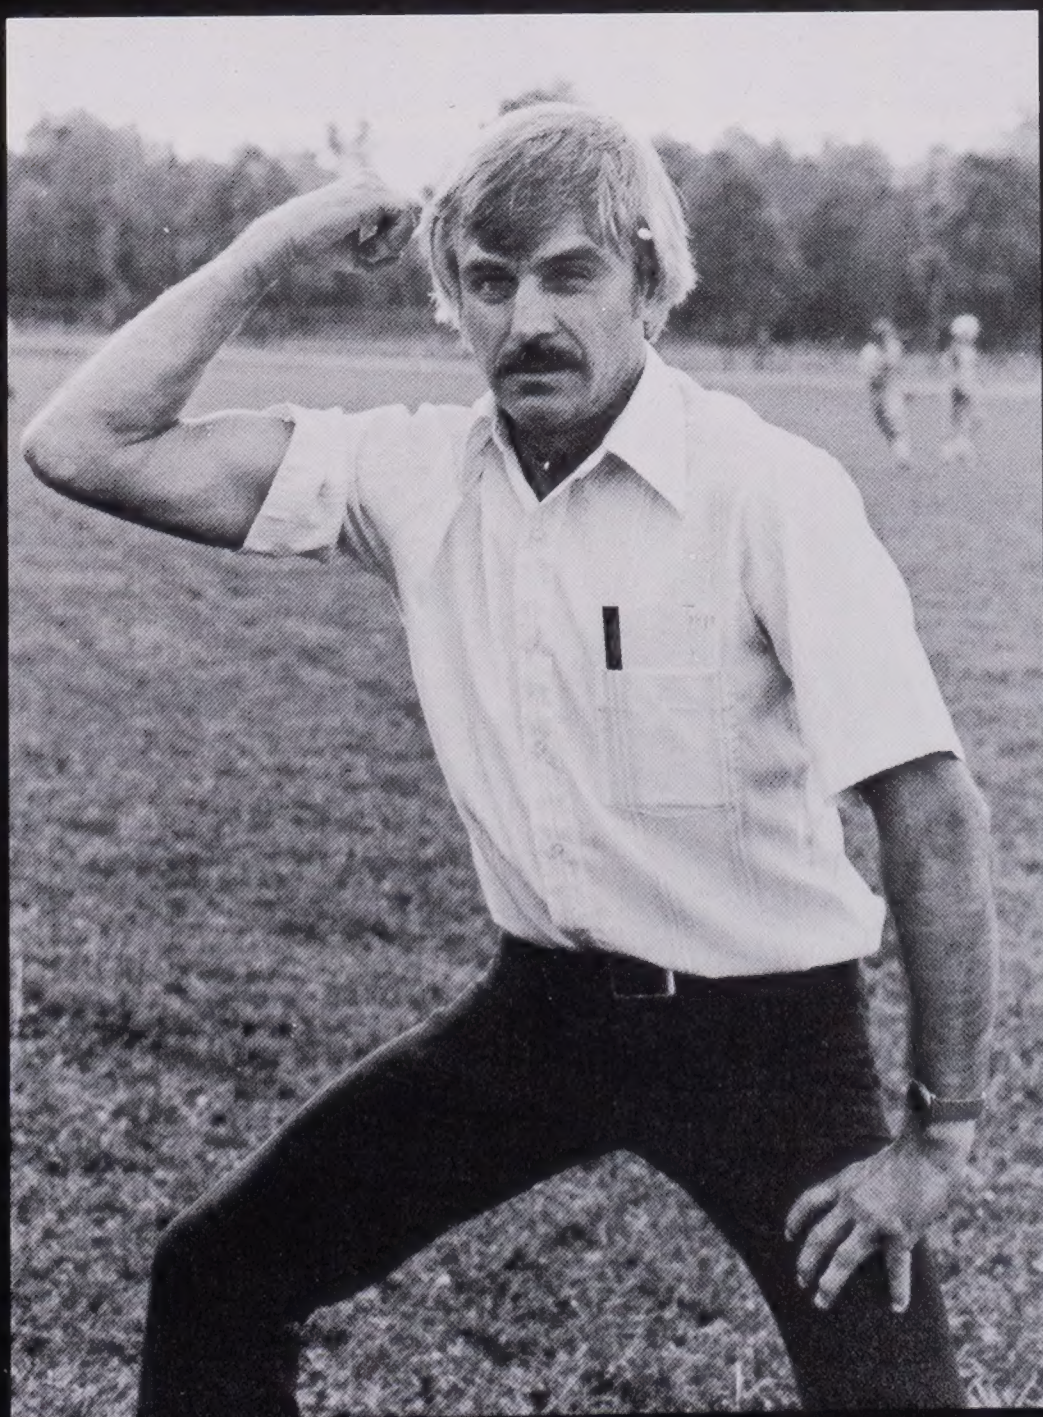

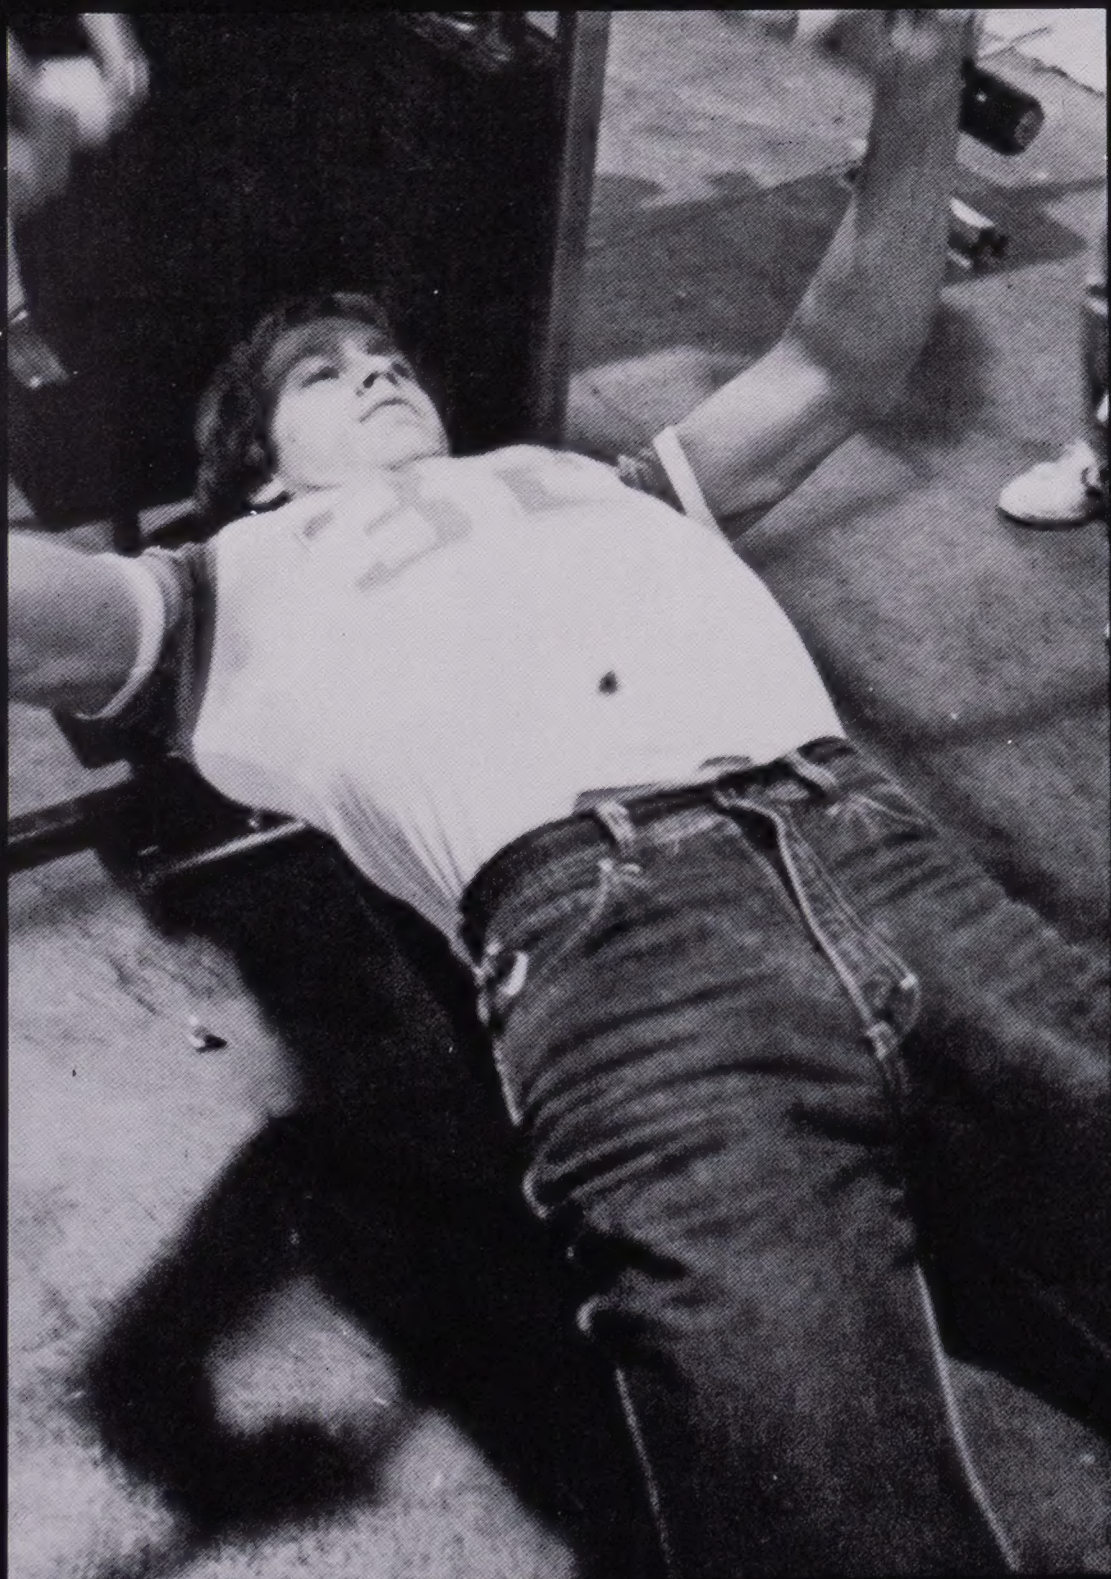

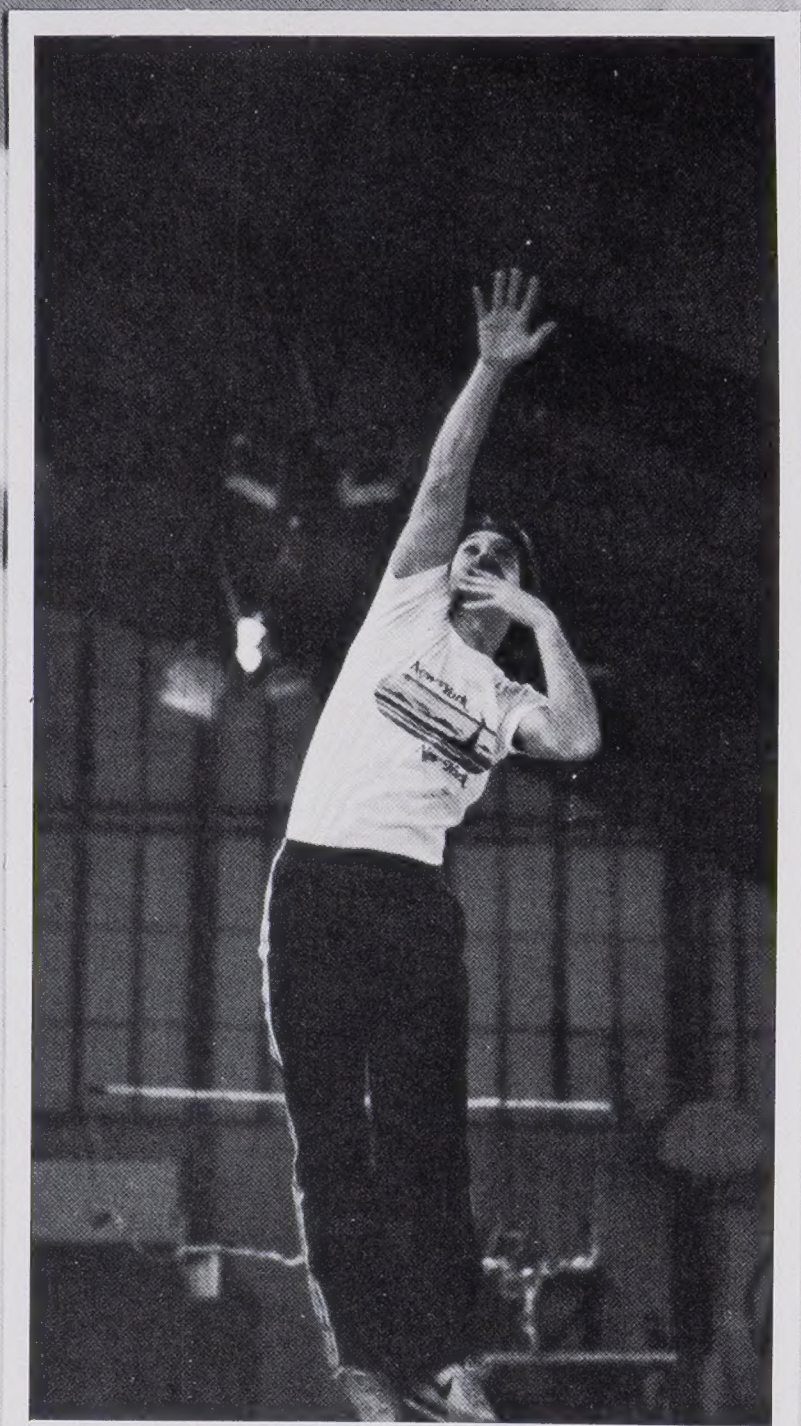

INCREIBLE

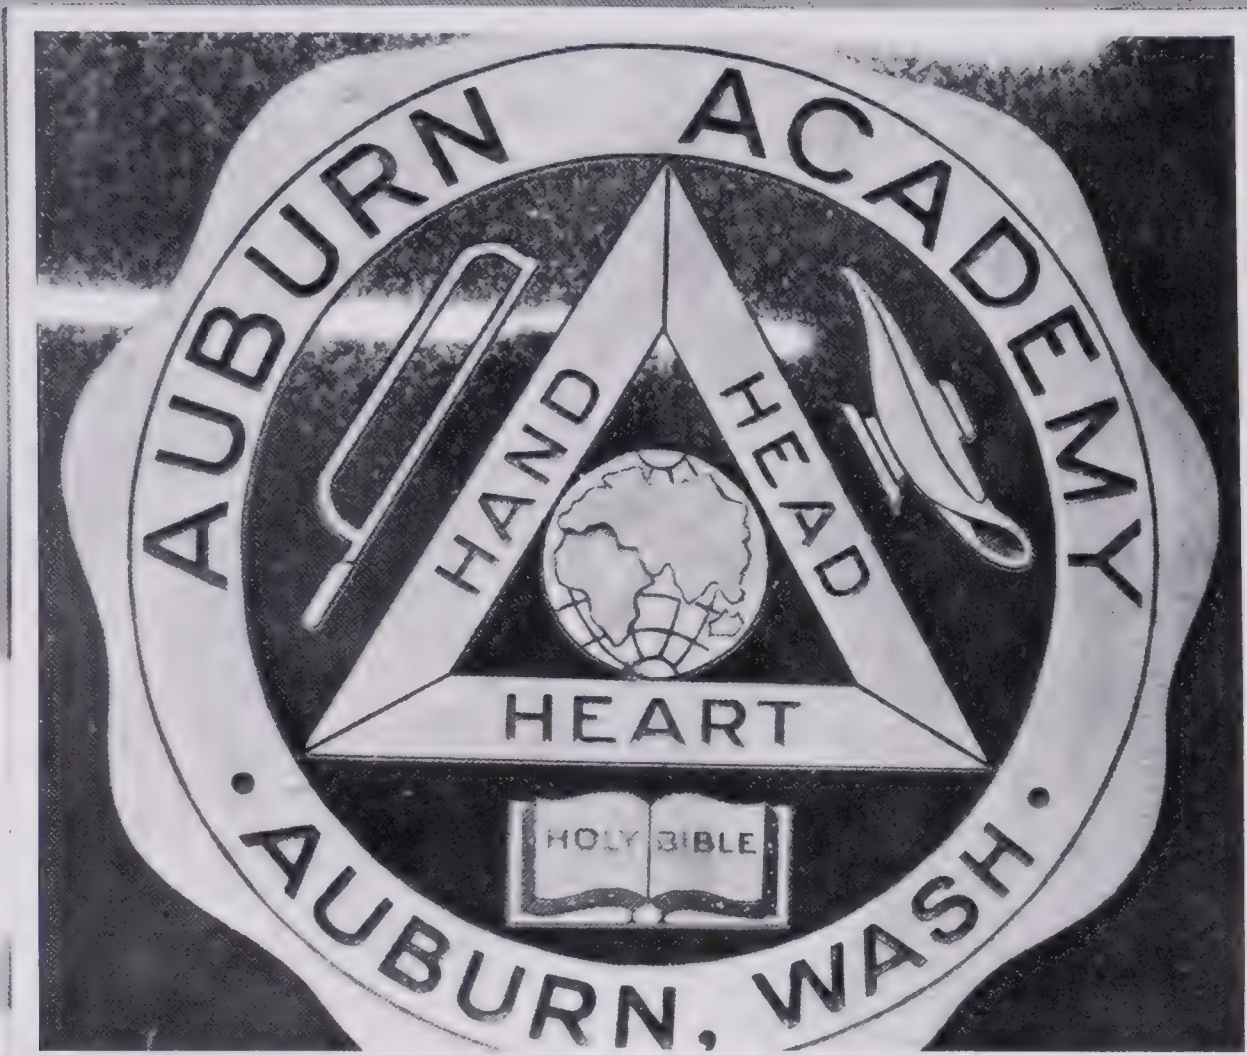

AWESOME

Dear Fellow Students and Staff:

You are about to look into the year in retrospect. We have tried to capture the moods, the actions, the events of this marvelous year in the history of our school and this whole world that we make for ourselves. There have been incredible moments, awesome acts, but through it all there has been the big picture. You have a vision of a future. Looking through the present, purposing to follow the Lord wherever He leads, the future is not in doubt.

God Bless You, every one. It is a pleasure to present this volume to you.

Sincerely,

Rainier Vista

Remember the late nights studying for Elder McLean's Bible test, and the early hours spent in study for Mr. Miller's History test?

Remember sitting in the chapel trying to decide upon an aim and motto, and class colors? And then never knowing what was picked out when you left.

Remember the hours spent practicing the graduation march? And then the mixed up feelings you had - happy and relieved that it was over, and yet, very sad for the friends you left behind

With one year behind them, Sophomores feel more at ease.

They are accustomed to the traffic jams in the halls, and lockers that won't open.

They are beginning to mature physically, mentally, and spiritually. And all are looking forward to Graduation Day, 1984.

DEPARTMENTS

ADMINISTRATION

Essential to every good school organization is an administrative staff. The members of this staff are always willing to counsel with a person about jobs, schoolwork, policies and much more. Many of them are involved in committees planning school rules, social events for the student body, seeing that the school maintenance is kept up and making long-range plans. Though these staff members are always busy with something, their office doors stand open to anyone needing assistance.

ART

Many students enter art class thinking they aren't artistic enough to paint a barn, let alone a beautiful picture. But when the quarter is finished, they leave knowing they have the imagination and the ability to turn a plain, ugly canvas into a work of art!

BIBLE

Sitting at your desk at the beginning of Bible class, you suddenly ask yourself why you didn't learn this memory verse last night in study hall.

You stare at the words on your paper, and one by one they begin to blur and run into other. As the teacher begins his daily lecture, the group of words that you couldn't understand a few minutes ago, now starts to make sense.

You work hard all through the semester—but none of that is recognized until you see that "A" stamped on your report card. You give a sigh of relief—and then realize that that was just the first semester—you still have one more to go!

OH WELL, with a little effort, that battle too can be won.

Walt Koehn-Freshman Bible, Ken Perman-Sophomore Bible, Orlin McLean-Senior Bible, Dave Allen-Junior Bible, Monty Knittel-Introduction to Bible, Dick Jewett-Campus Pastor.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Do you want to add some interest to your life at A.A.A.? Take an I.A. class. With the help of Mr. Spady, Mr. Farver, or Mr. Freitas, you can learn to do incredible things with your hands. You can test your ability to build things in wood shop, or if you have nimble fingers try macrame in arts and crafts. From Mr. Farver you can learn to take an old clunker car and make it run like a new one. If you have an interest in welding or machine shop Mr. Spady will be eager to teach those skills. Amaze your friends with your skill and talent.

Bob Farver - Auto Mech I & II, Drivers Ed

Ed Spady - Machine Shop, Welding, Math

Bob Freitas - Wood Shop I & II, Arts and Crafts, Photography I & II

Learning about our mother tongue can be a real trial. We wonder who needs to know about participles and prepositions? Mrs. Beitzel can make authors come alive and Mr. Krenz gets all the nouns and verbs straight. Mrs. Rittenbach keeps us reading and writing too.

With all the practice and their good example, our letters home and requests for interviews and letters typed to business will be in perfect English. Maybe we'll even pass the class.

ENGLISH

SPANISH

Taking a foreign language gives students a chance to learn more about their own language. It gives them the ability to communicate with someone who speaks a different language and to learn to understand people of other places. HASTA MAÑANA!

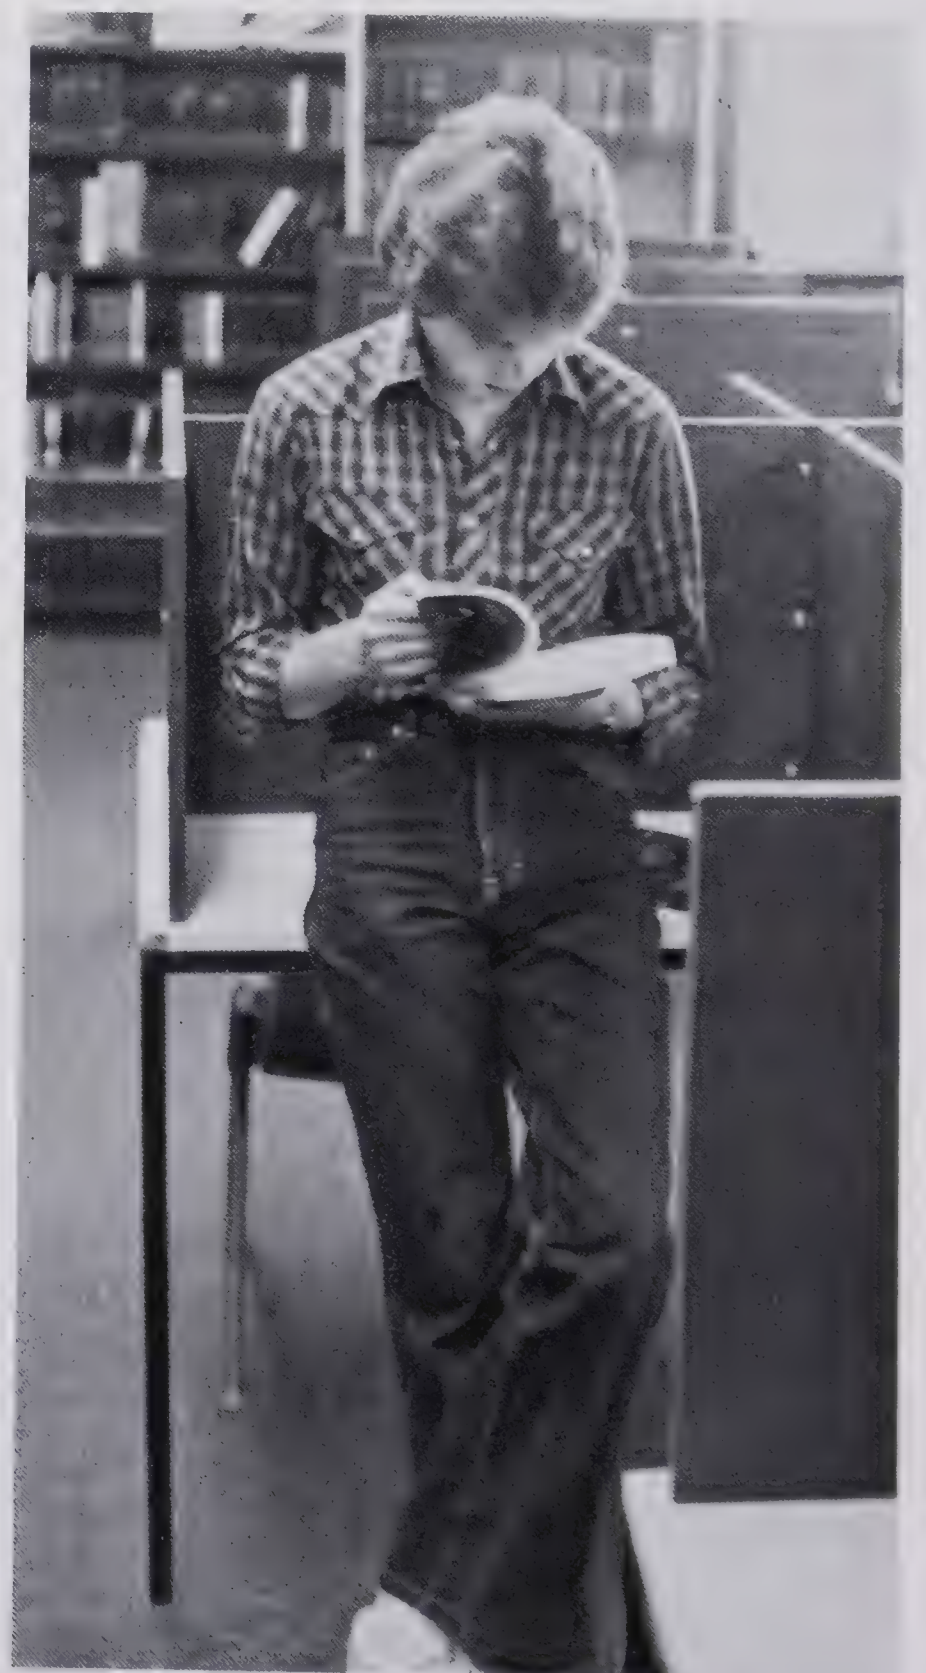

Jean Andrews-Senior Class Sponsor

Learning Resources Center

The Learning Resources Center consists of hundreds of books, a variety of magazines, an Apple II computer, and 12 loyal and dedicated workers. Who is the Director of all this, you may ask? Keith Driberg is! He is always willing to take the time to help students find books, and magazines, or to teach them how to run the computer. All in all the LRC is a perfect place to go when you have home work, tests to study for, or just to fool around on the computer.

Keith Driberg - LRC Director, RV Sponsor

AVIATION

A new plane and instructor have gotten the aviation program off the ground this year. Dale Sinnott has been able to help students at times which fit their schedules. This has greatly reduced the time spent in groundschool and flight training. Now students can take off solo in the new Cessna 172 after only a few months.

MATH AND SCIENCE

Through labs, lectures, and audio-visual presentations students develop an understanding of the world of living things and the physical universe. Practicing scientific methods they attempt to comprehend truth.

Math is said to be not only logical, but FUNDamental. Some students are still trying to prove that equation.

HOME EC

Darlene Ehman, Home Ec., Bachelor Living, Advanced Foods & Clothing, Interior Decorating, Child Development, Home Arts & Crafts, Sophomore Class Sponsor.

Home Ec. is a very interesting class,
Which arouses many questions,
That the kids like to ask.
How much should I stir this?
How long should it bake?
How do I sew this? How long will it take?
Is this right, or did I do it wrong?
Will this be done soon, or how long?
When their project is finally done,
They come to the conclusion,
Hey! This class is fun!

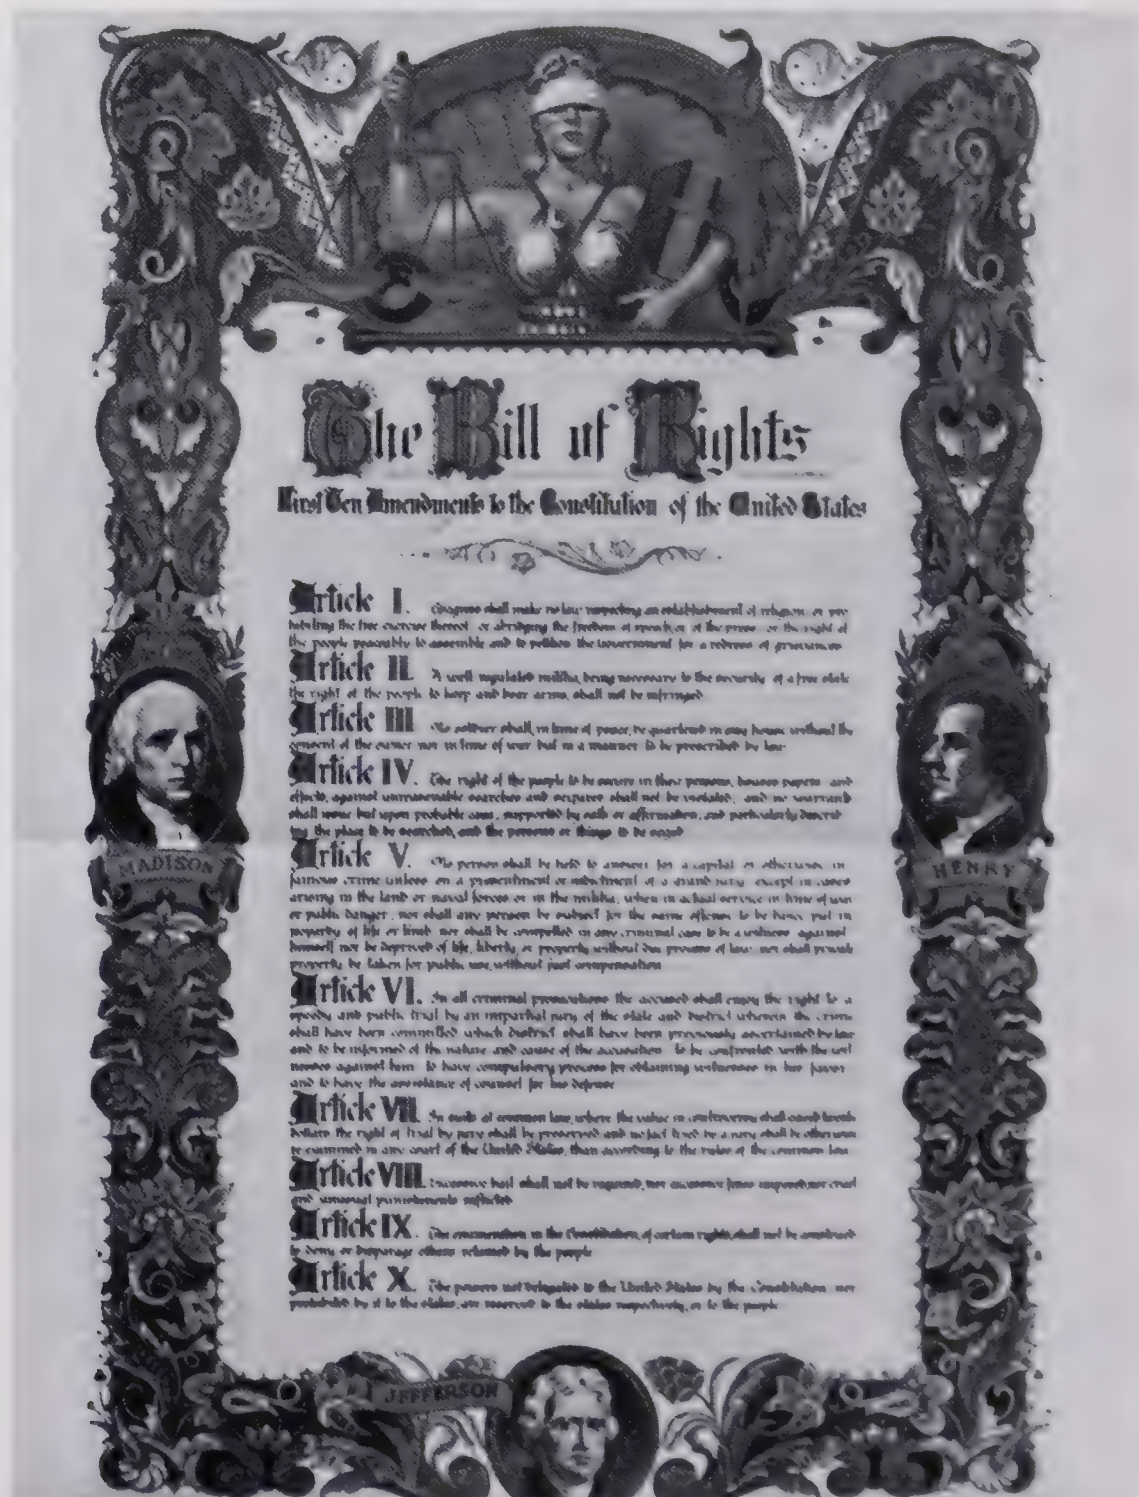

HISTORY

History class, whether taught by Ken Perman or Ron Miller, is an experience you'll never forget. Mr. Miller marches about the room, demonstrating his lessons by poking students in the ribs with his stick gun, and Elder Perman serenades his class (Look out Sylvan). Tests, quizzes, reports, and optional projects all help us learn and remember the making of our Nation.

Ron Miller - U.S. History, Contemporary History, Senior Sponsor
Ken Perman - Washington State History, Bible, Sophomore Sponsor

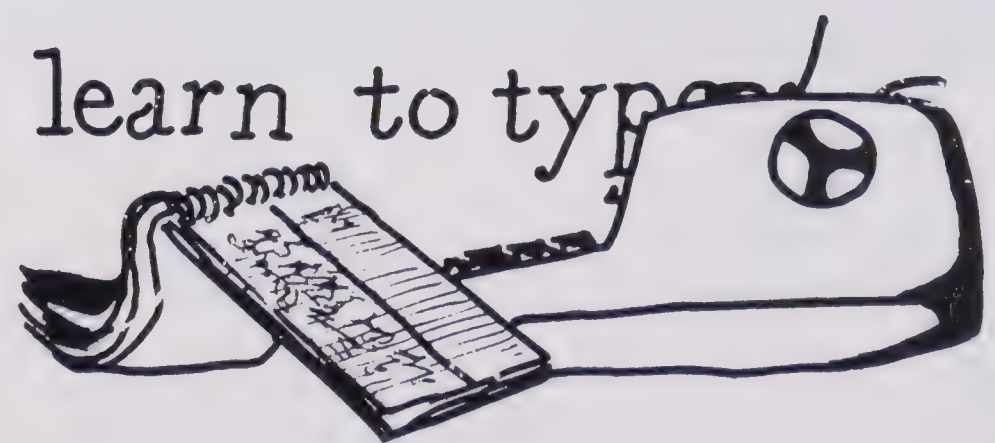

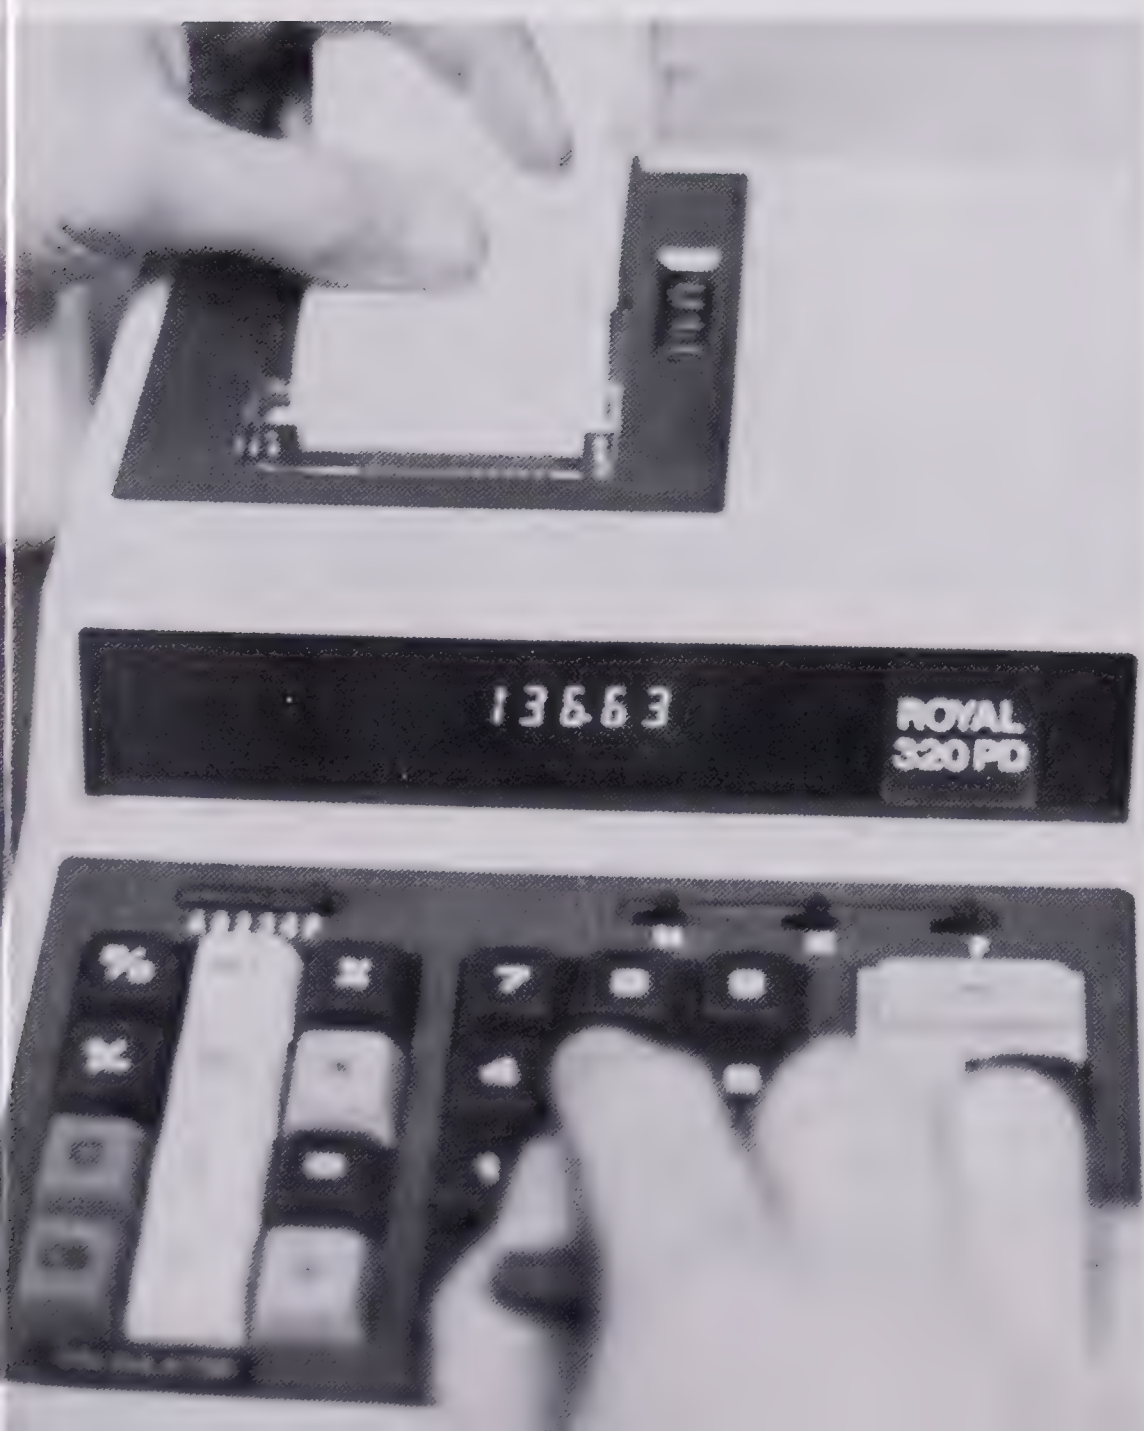

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Everyone needs to know business skills nowadays. Among the ones courses offered here at AAA. are Office Practice, Shorthand, Word Processing, and Typing. These are just a few. Accuracy is needed to perform these tasks well. This is especially needed in typing. Every prospective boss will ask you to type something for him to see how fast you can. type. and Every college professor assigns TYPED term papers. Taking typing here will help you in College even if you don't do it for life-.

P.E. ... a combination of having fun, getting in shape, and a break to the confined classroom routine. This year the new aerobics class has added a new dimension to the P.E. classes offered. P.E. is an important class here at A.A.A. and it helps to balance out the educational program.

RAINIER ECHOES

The Rainier Echoes staff works diligently to print a monthly, as well as weekly paper. At the beginning of the year, staff members attended a Journalism Conference at Highline Community College to review writing, printing and layout techniques. Putting out a paper isn't all hard work though. The drudgery of sticking address labels on the latest issue passes quickly while watching an interesting video. Celebrating birthdays and thinking of items for the April Fools edition are also enjoyable sidelights.

We hope to recreate for you some of the memories of one of the best years of your life.

NELSON HALL

Long lines to the showers, noisy neighbors waking you up at 4:30 in the morning, screeching girls running down the hallways, lights out before you finished your English assignment, deans roaming the halls to tell everyone to go to bed-that is the normal day in Nelson Hall.

It takes a special kind of person to be a mother to so many girls. Mrs. Koehn, our Head Dean, and Miss Todorovich (MISTY) our Assistant Dean, are those two very special people.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

FALL WEEK OF PRAYER

B. J. Christiansen from the Oregon Conference preached great sermons on the life of Peter. Those sermons uplifted our thoughts and helped us to make realistic changes in our lives. He also mingled with the students, playing his guitar and singing with us during after-glow services.

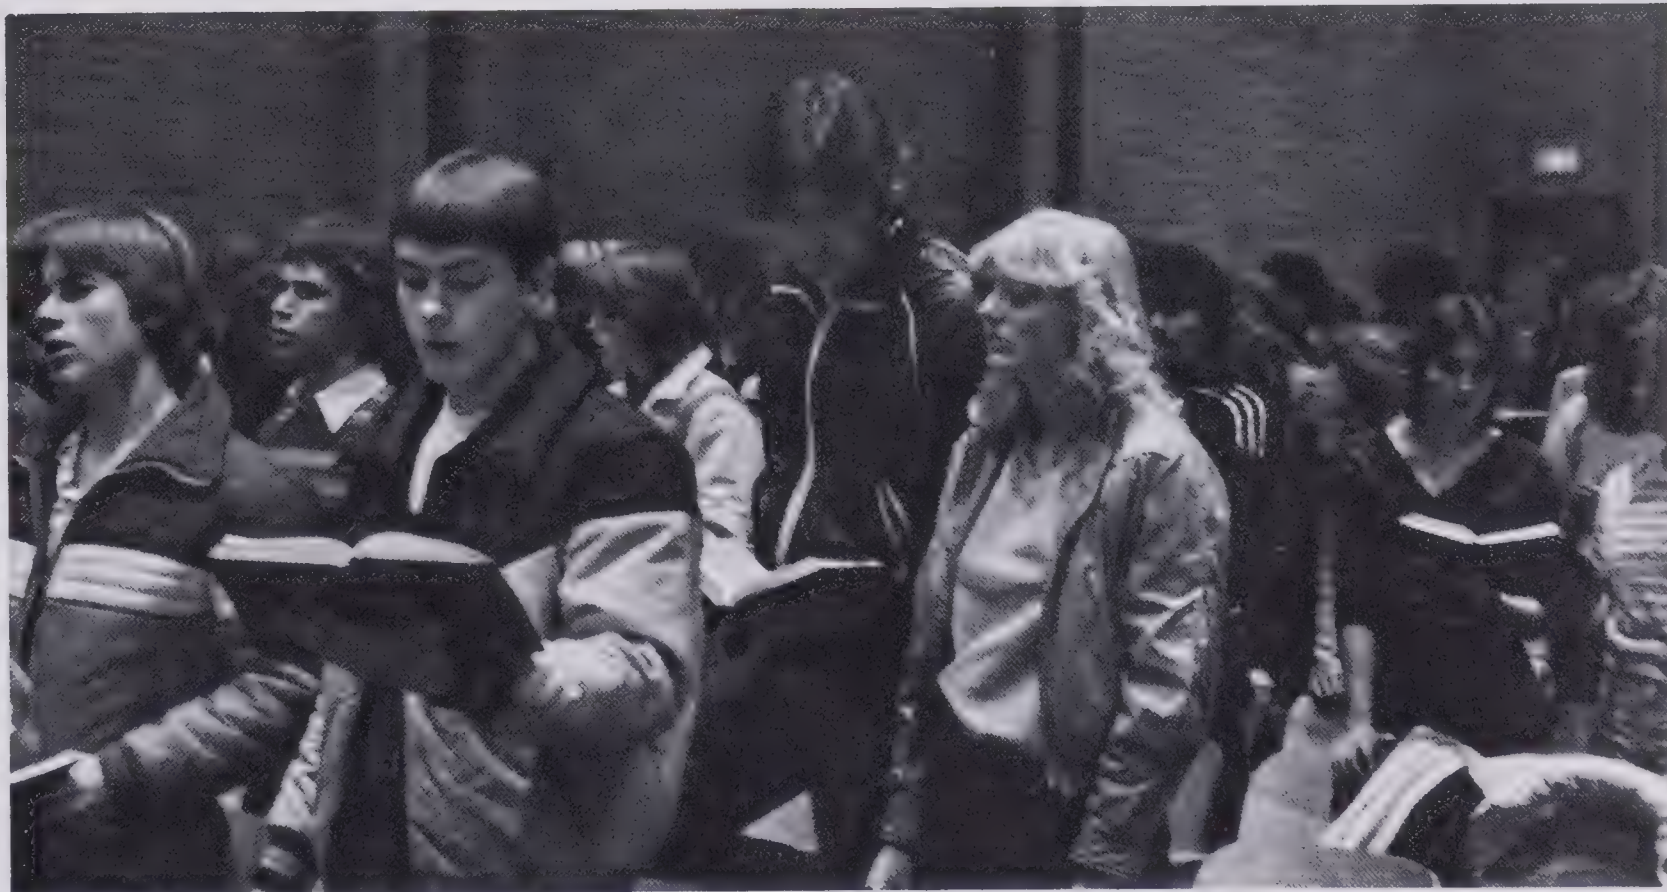

STUDENT WEEK OF PRAYER

Student Week of Prayer is often considered the best series of meetings of the school year. This year is no exception. Student speakers, selected by their peers, shared Bible stories of a few who came to know Christ personally and gave their testimonies. Response was good with many students dedicating or rededicating their lives to Christ.

Not shown: Lisa Walker and Rex Thornton.

BIBLE AND LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Camp Mivoden hosted the Bible and Leadership conferences this year. Elder Hancock from the White Estate presented a series showing the integrity and personality of Ellen White. Those who went will long remember the Friday night communion and the friends they made.

CAROLING

"Silent Night" was the song we brought to many homes in the West Seattle, Renton, and Mercer Island areas. The return for our effort was dollars that went to help many mission projects. Back at the cafeteria, after the evening of Caroling had come to a close, it wasn't so silent as the students voiced varying comments on having soup and crackers instead of hot chocolate and cookies that had been served in previous years. Because so many students participated in Caroling, we received an extra day on a home leave in second semester.

OUTREACH

Outreach is a program that gives students a chance to use their God-given talents to help the community. These students participated in a stop-smoking clinic, to help some of the community to "Kick the Habit". They also handed out brochures for evangelistic meetings, and Childrens' Crusades. Visiting the senior citizens, and cheering them up, is another way that Outreach has shared their faith. Sharing their faith in these ways has made some of the students feel closer to God, and has made them feel happier, all around.

AFTERGLOW

Picture in your mind . . . After vespers on a Friday night. You gather with friends in the Fireside room where the fire in the fireplace throws out a warm glow of welcome. Singing songs and sharing fill the brief half-hour you have together. Each student shares something that he has done this week, a habit overcome or an answer to prayer that has special meaning to him. A brief few minutes before time to go, you break up into groups of two or three for a special time of prayer. Everyone stands in a circle when they're finished, holding hands. Then someone starts singing "Side By Side". As you break up to go back to the dorms, you feel refreshed from the past week and ready to enjoy the weekend.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

ALMOST ANYTHING GOES

The gym was a riot of sound and motion as students enjoyed an evening of fun and games. Many utilized skill that they never realized they had before!

FACULTY TALENT

Faculty Talent night is a time when the faculty can throw away their high society exterior and have fun showing their talent in drama, music, and comedy. It's a time when the students can find out what their teachers are really like and the school is drawn together in friendship.

FATHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

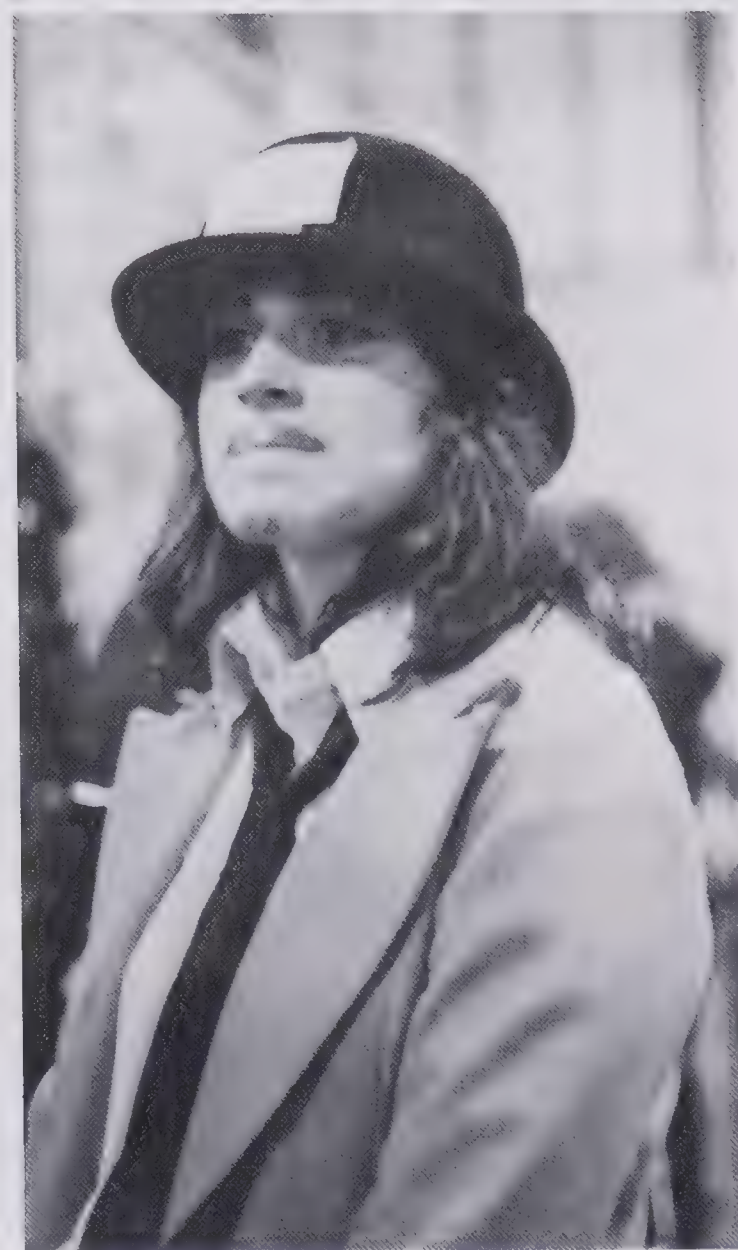

This is the one day out of the year that is especially set aside for the Daddys and their little girls. The banquet is scheduled to start around 10:30—but somehow fathers always seem to arrive at 9:00. This year's banquet was very unique because there wasn't any electricity during most of the program. A buffet styled dinner was served by candlelight at Andy's Auburn Station, and the program in the chapel was seen mostly by emergency lights. This is one day most girls will never forget—they were Daddy's "little girl" once again.

FALL FESTIVAL

The Fall Festival was an evening full of fun and games as students participated in golfing, eating, the obstacle course, and throwing pies at the faculty. By the way, has anyone heard if Perman and Knittel got out of jail?

OUTINGS

Hiking mountain trails, resting by streams, and singing songs by a campfire are just some of the things we do on outings. Worship is a special time of the day. Somehow it all seems more appropriate sitting outside. We also can spend time with our friends and run off our "cooped-up campus" energy.

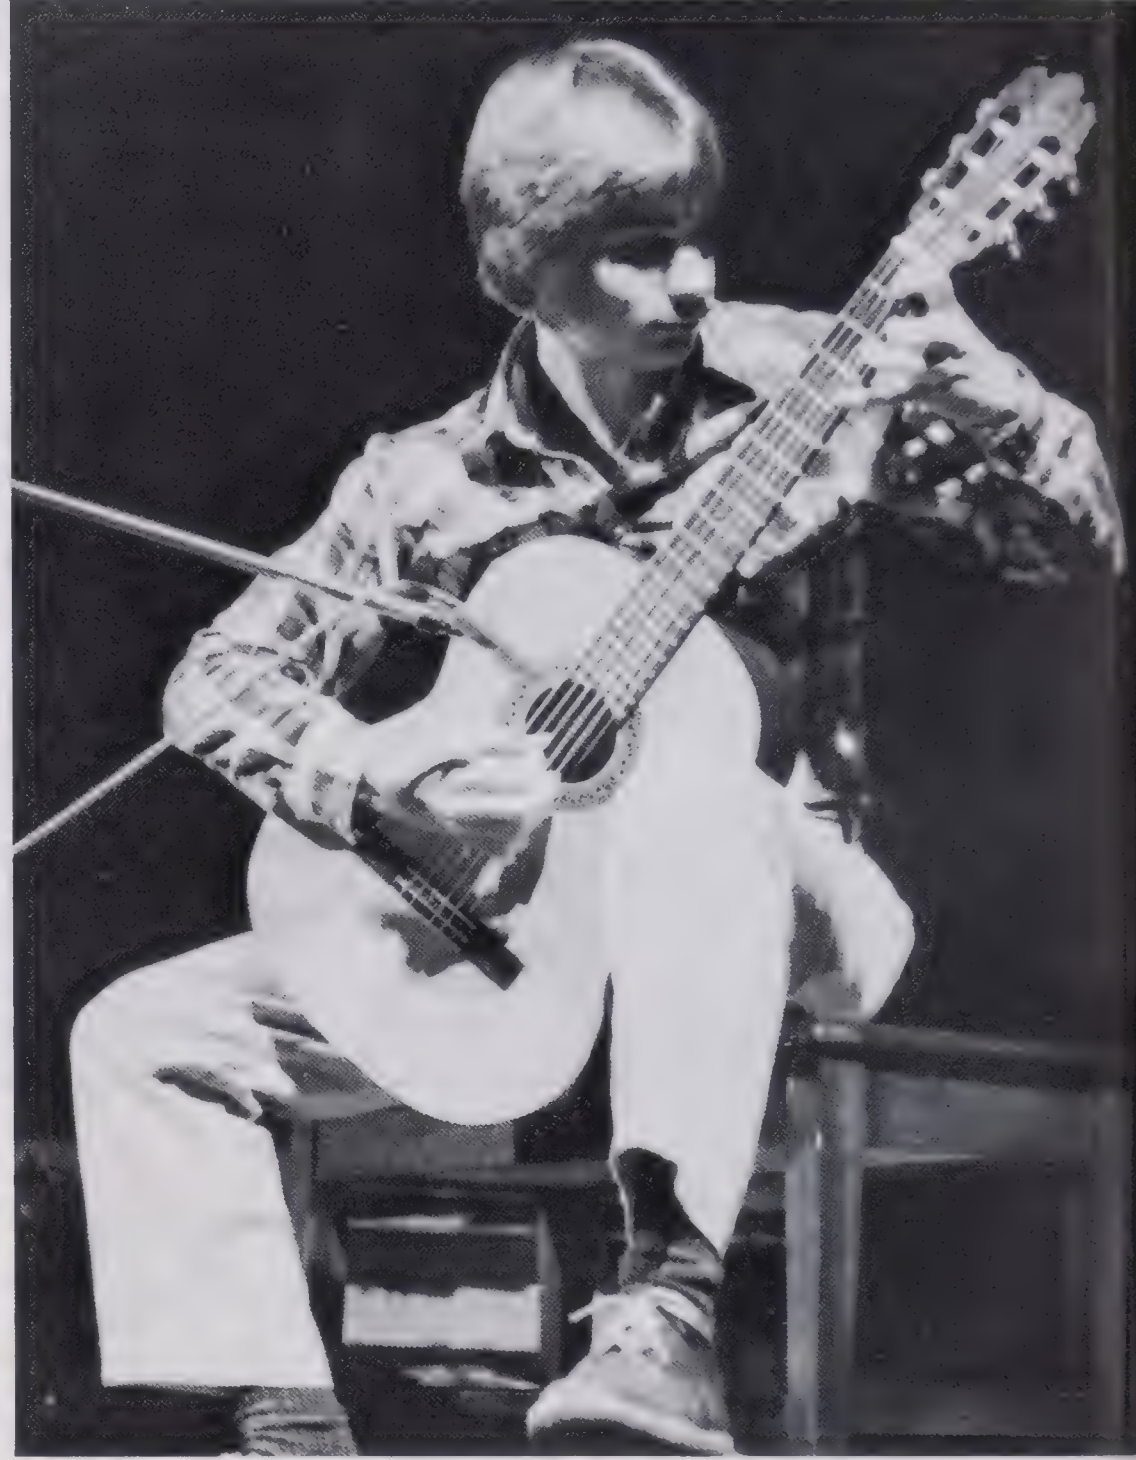

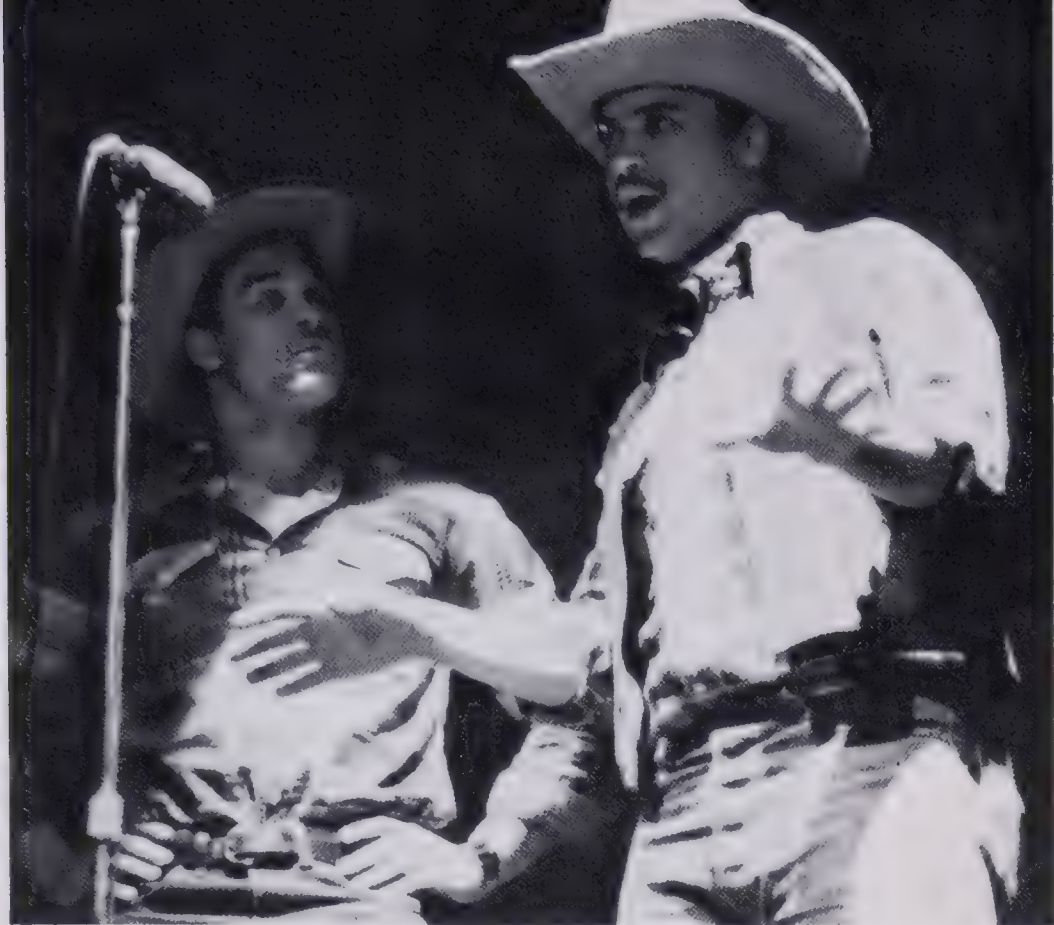

ICE SKATING

The students had a chance to get off campus for a couple of hours, and try their hand at Ice Skating. There were quite a few great skaters, and then there were those who . . . weren't so great. Those who tried to keep their legs from doing the splits, and those who had very "wobbly" ankle problems.

Most students came away with a few extra bruises, but it's an experience they will never forget!

AMATEUR HOUR

The theme for the thirty-second annual Amateur Hour was "Casa Loma Goes Country". The Emcees were graduates of Auburn; Stuart and Scott Bushnell. Judges picked three winning numbers consisting of: "Grandma's Feather Bed", Denise Erwin and Velona Smith; "Fiddler on the Roof", Gretchen Paulman, Delvina Pierce, and Darla Brown; and "The Zoo Song" by Valora Cooley, Lisa Whalin, Lisa Knutson, Candy Knutson, and Heidi Knutson. In addition to these the audience selected their favorite, "Three Wheels On My Wagon".

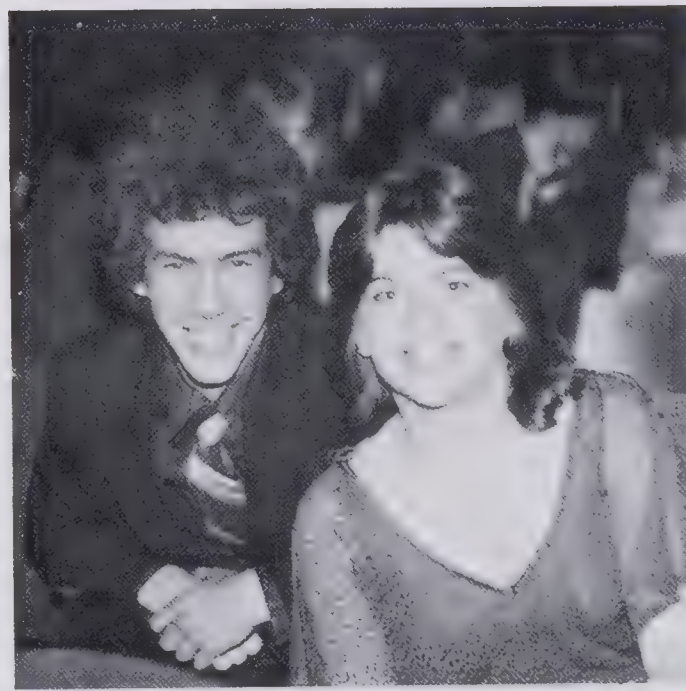

ZETA KAPPA OPEN HOUSE

CHRISTMAS BANQUET

The Christmas banquet this year was put on by the ASB, ZK and CL clubs. The cafeteria was transformed into a winter wonderland with twinkling lights, a colorful Christmas tree, and a snow backdrop was perfect for getting your picture taken with your date. Having a Christmas banquet adds to the spirit of the season.

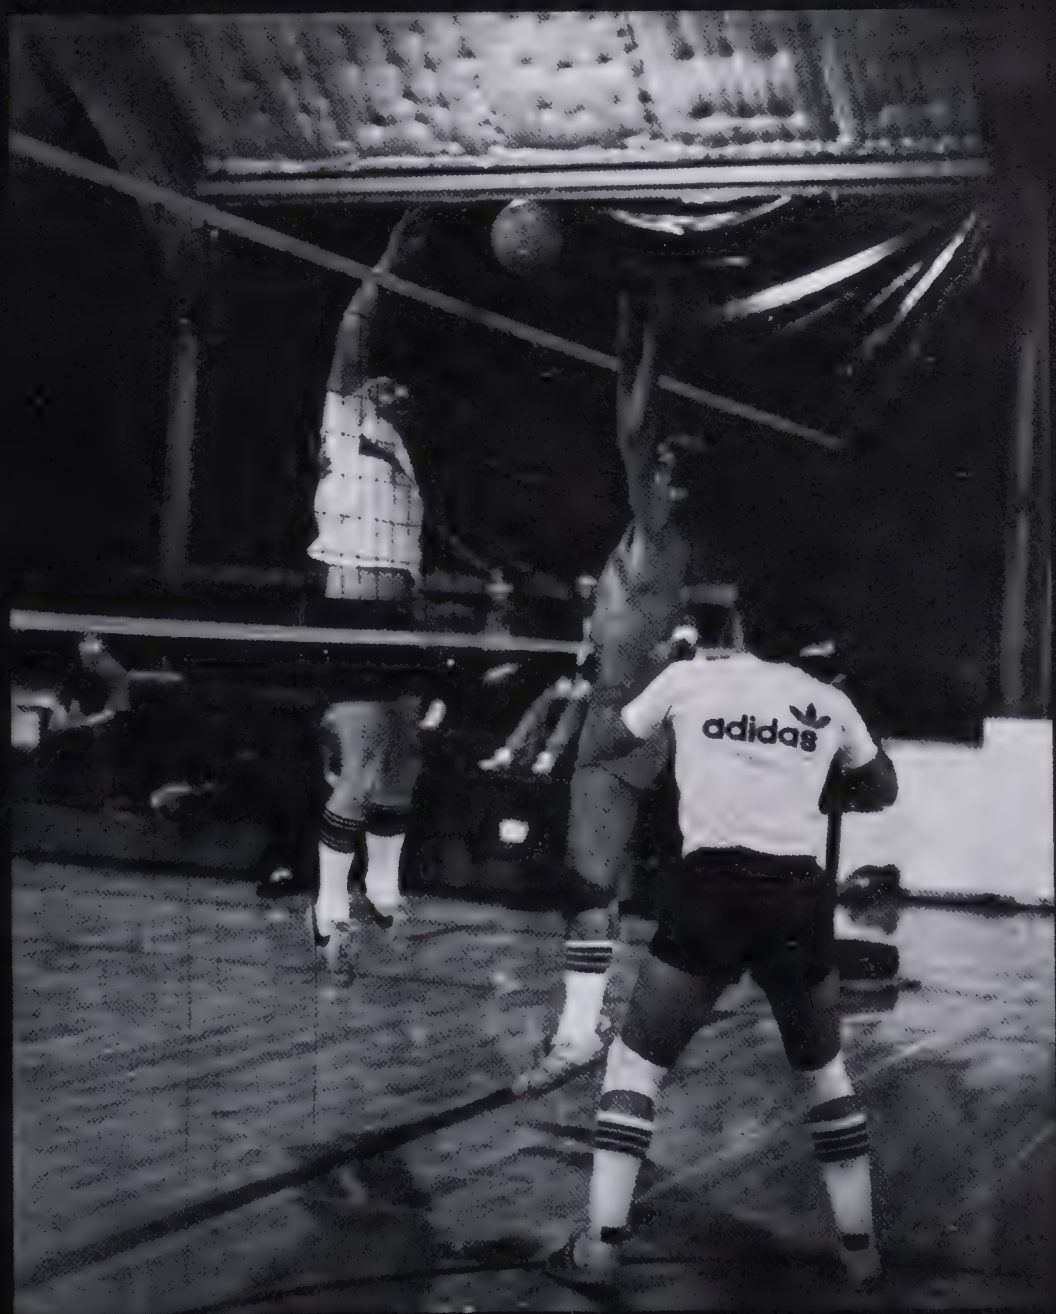

SNOW

Last year it seemed to snow everywhere but here. This year was a different story. Our campus turned into a winter wonderland for almost a week. Snowball fights and snowmen burst up on center campus while anxious skiers checked their equipment to make sure it was in good condition after resting all last season.

RECREATION

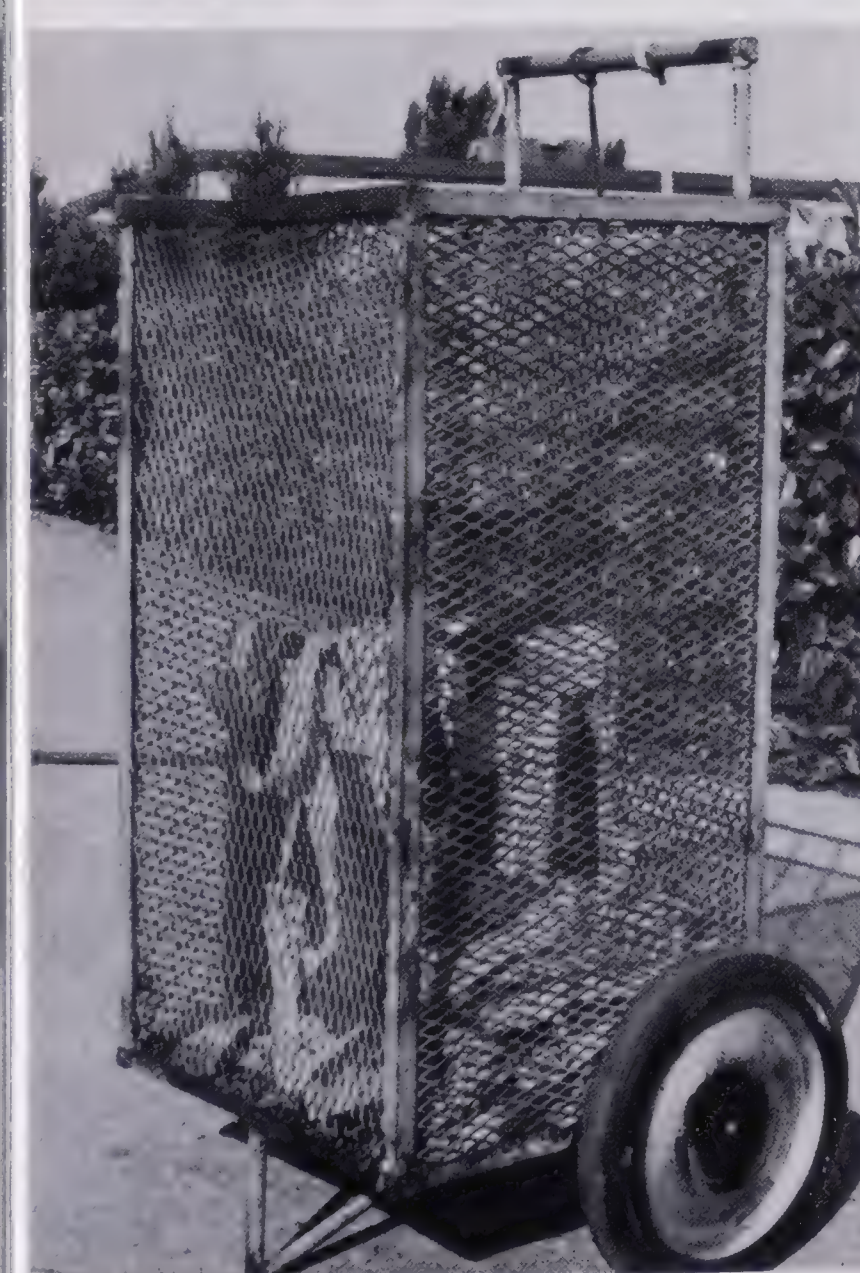

FOOTBALL

“Stick’em” is thought to be the secret of the faculties phenomenal winning season. How else could they lose on only one game and whomp on the students? Dropped passes became a thing of the past when the faculty used their magic formula. The students held out well in spite of the faculty’s advantage.

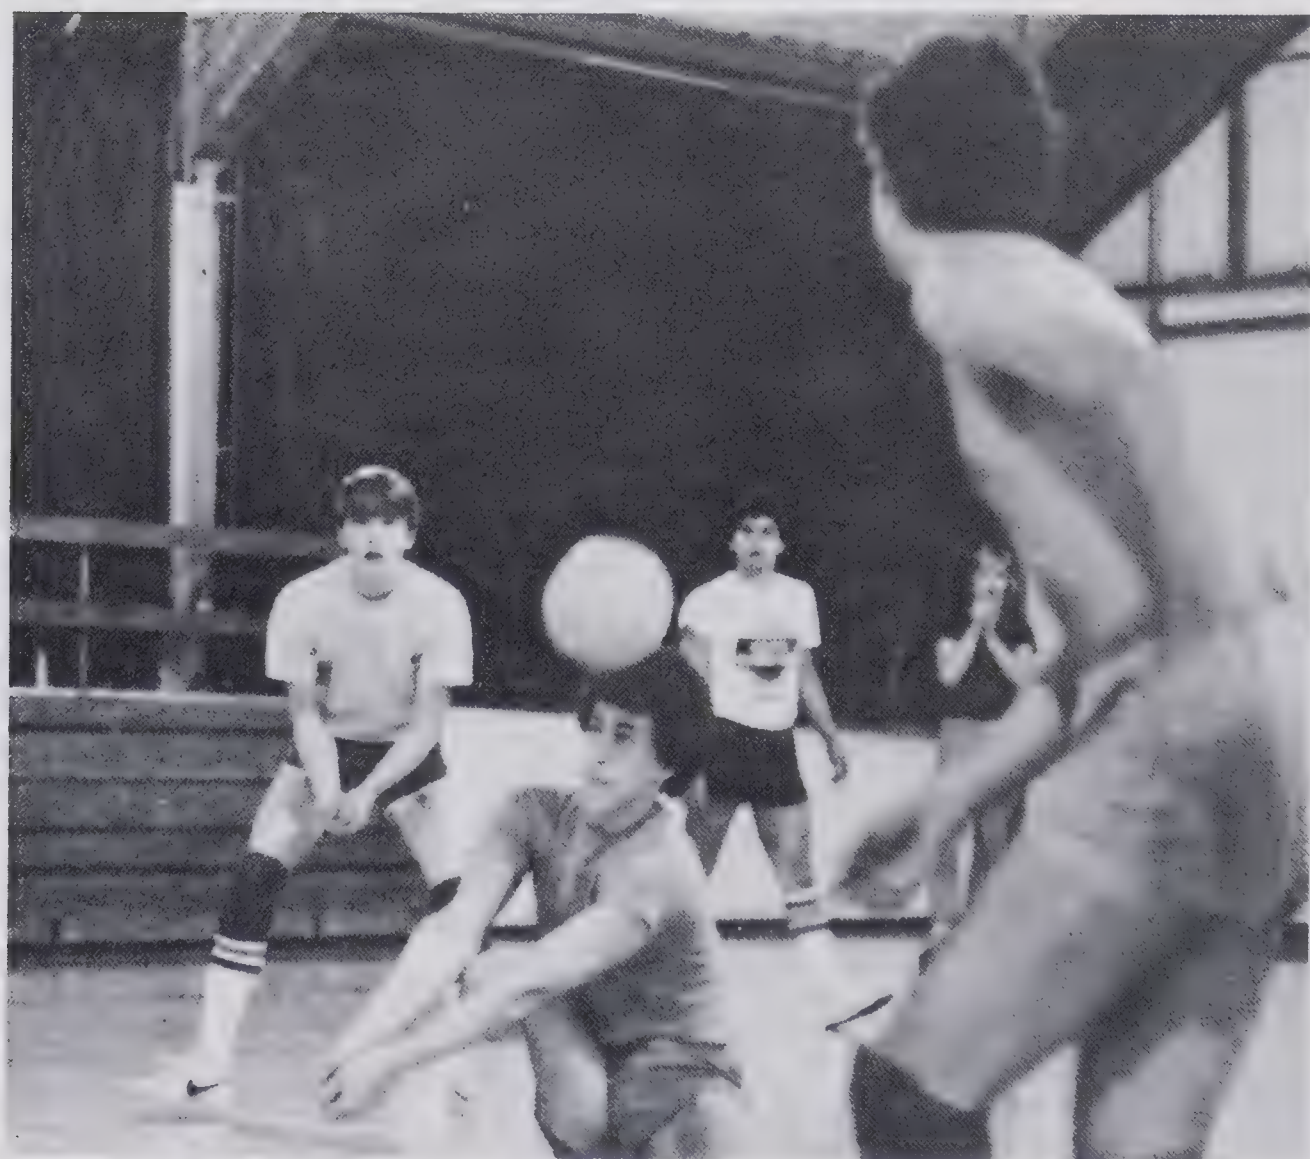

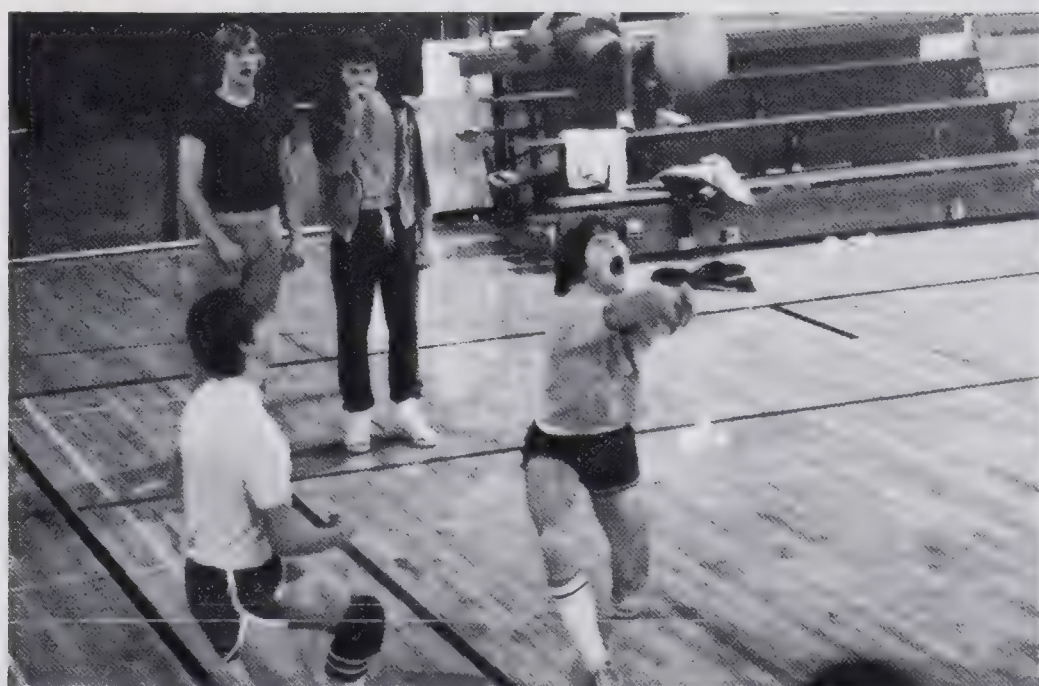

A LEAGUE	W	L	T
Faculty	6	1
Silvestri	5	3
Knutson	4	3	1
Luce	2	3	2
Halvorson	0	7	1

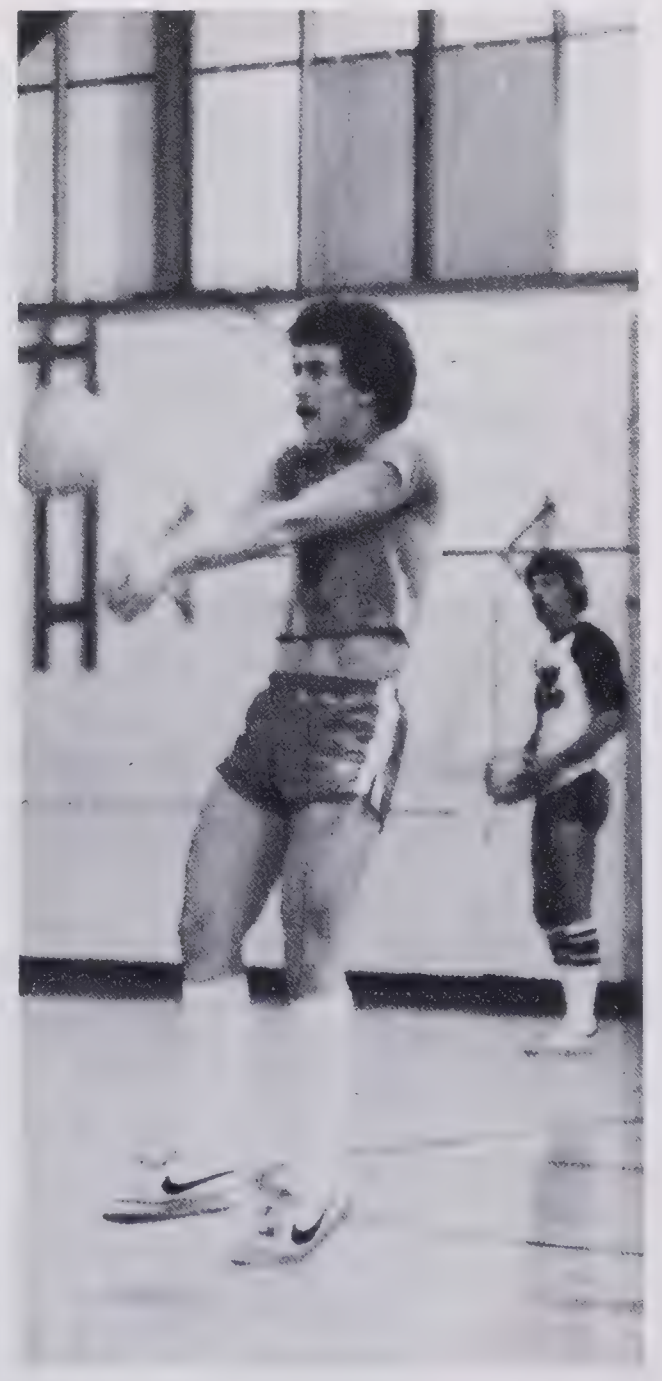

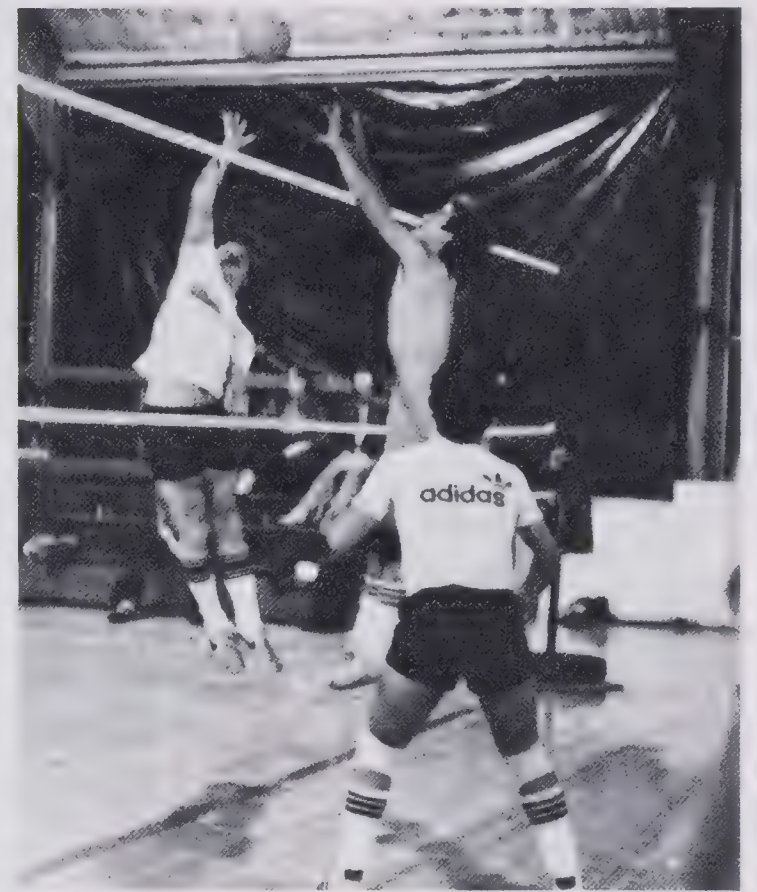

VOLLEYBALL

The sport of volleyball requires teamwork and good sportsmanship. It helps develop hand and eye coordination. Besides, volleyball is just plain fun!

For faculty and students alike volleyball is a way of loosening up after a hard day at school.

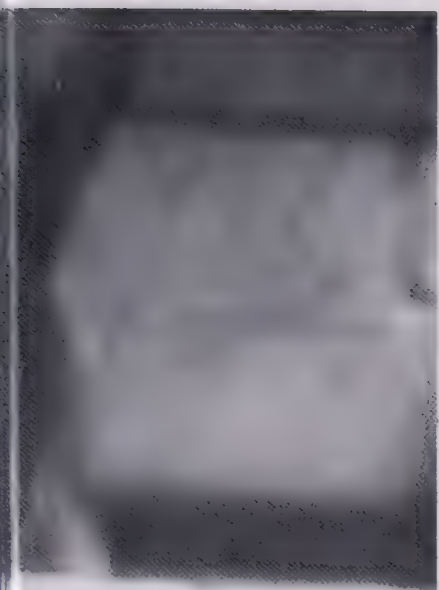

BASKETBALL

Because basketball is such a competitive sport, team members learn sportsmanship as well as team work in playing it. Of all the sports on campus, basketball seems to attract the most vigorous fans. Village as well as dorm students enjoy participating vocally if not physically, in supporting their favorite team.

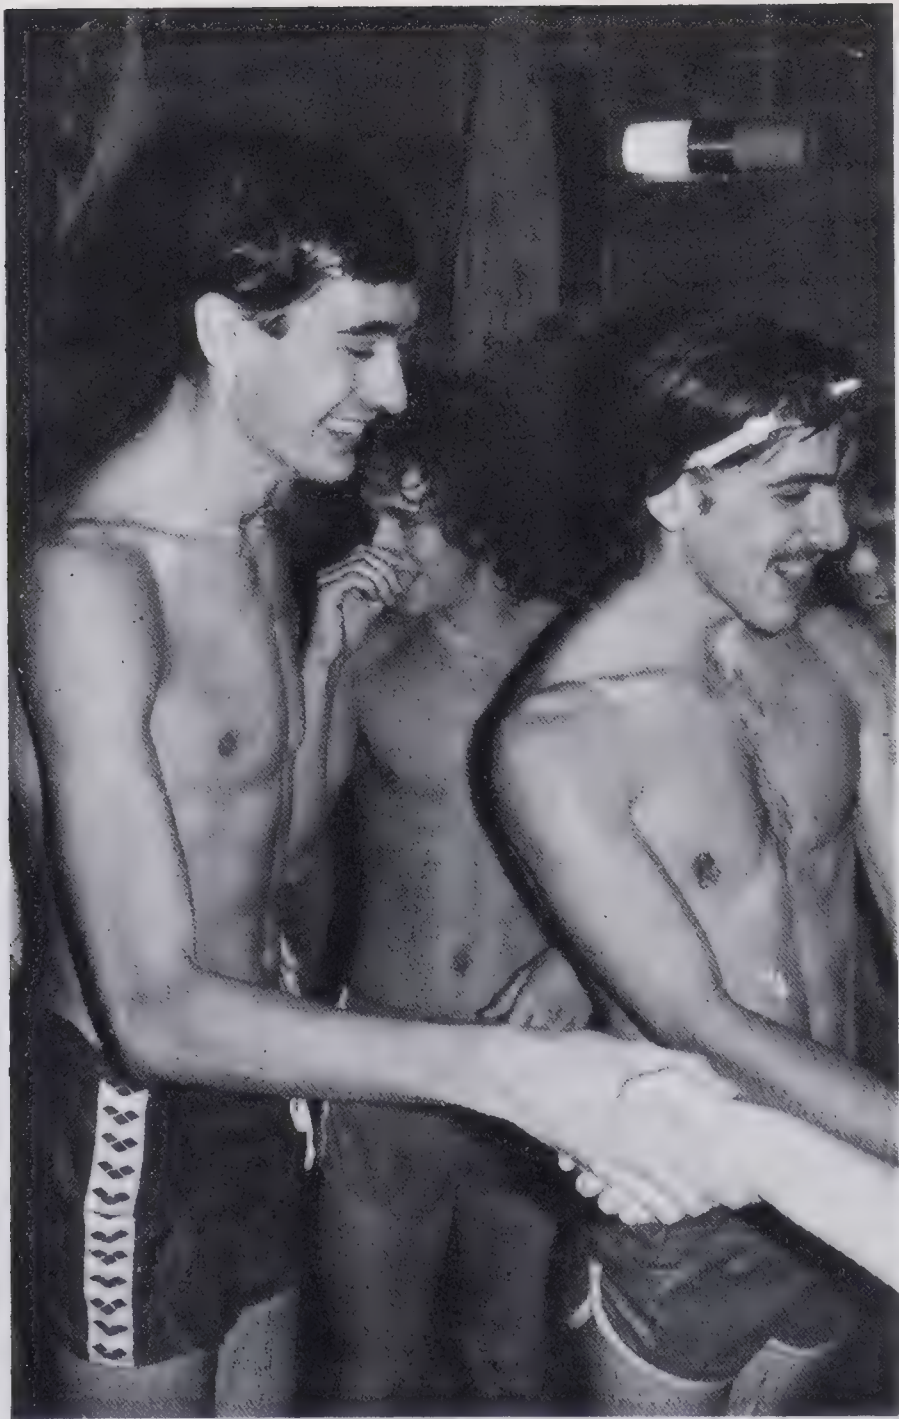

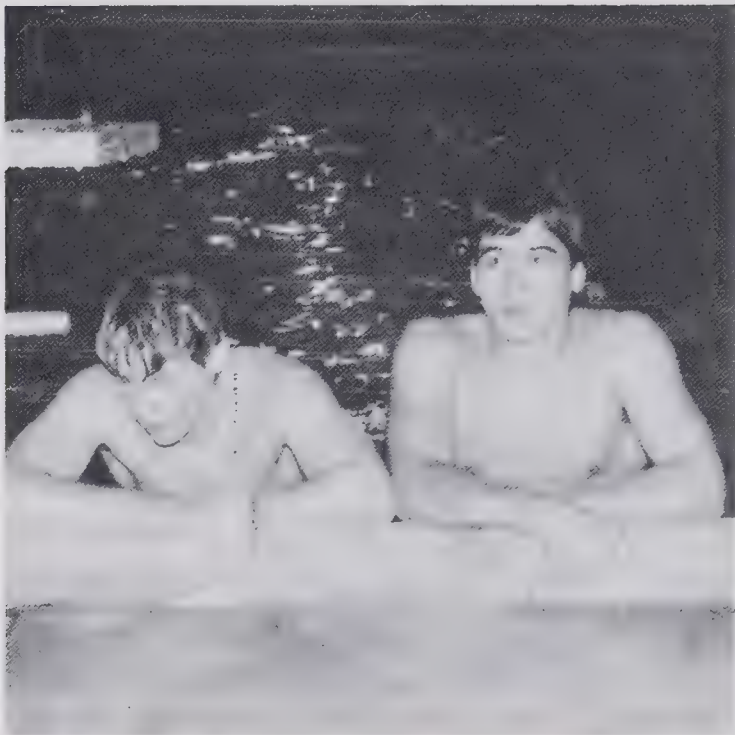

At press time, the statistics were not available, but the caliber of the teams is evident in the fact that they won the All-Star game against the WWC freshmen!!

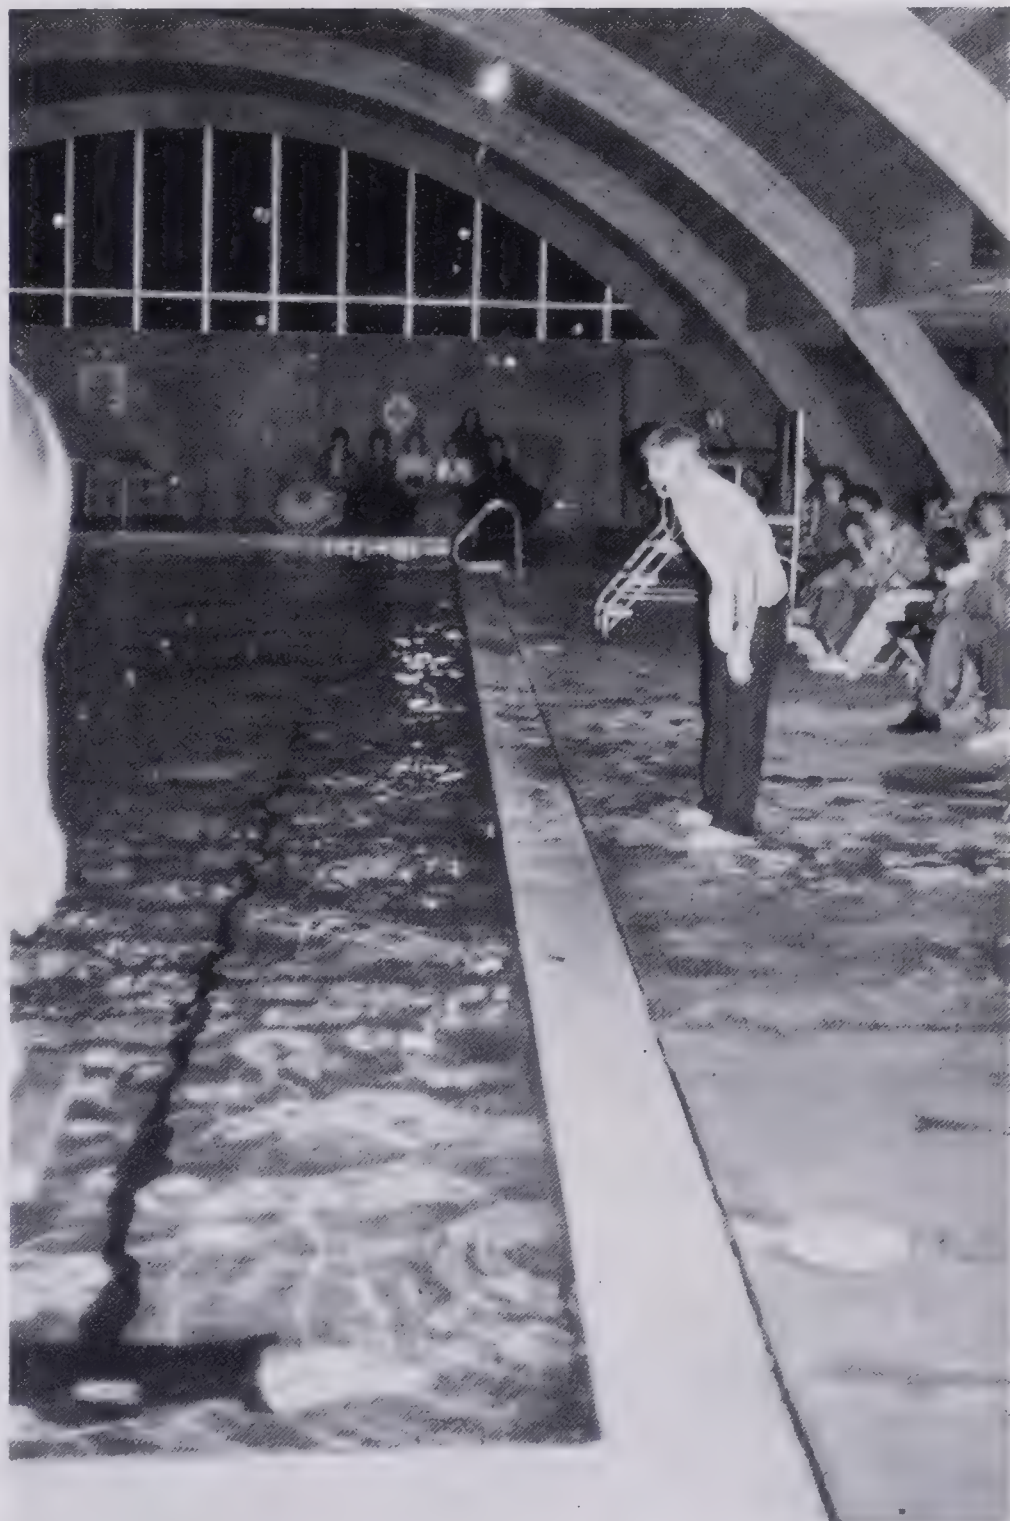

SWIM MEET

Seniors!	143
Juniors	90
Sophomores	28
Freshmen	26

SKIING

Last year there was no snow. This year it was wet, but it didn't seem to bother the students and faculty that went to Snoqualmie Summit every Sunday to ski. For some it was the beginning of a new thrilling adventure, and for others it was ten weeks of pure ecstasy and bliss! The ski program gives students a rare chance to earn academic credit while having fun.

EMPLOYMENT

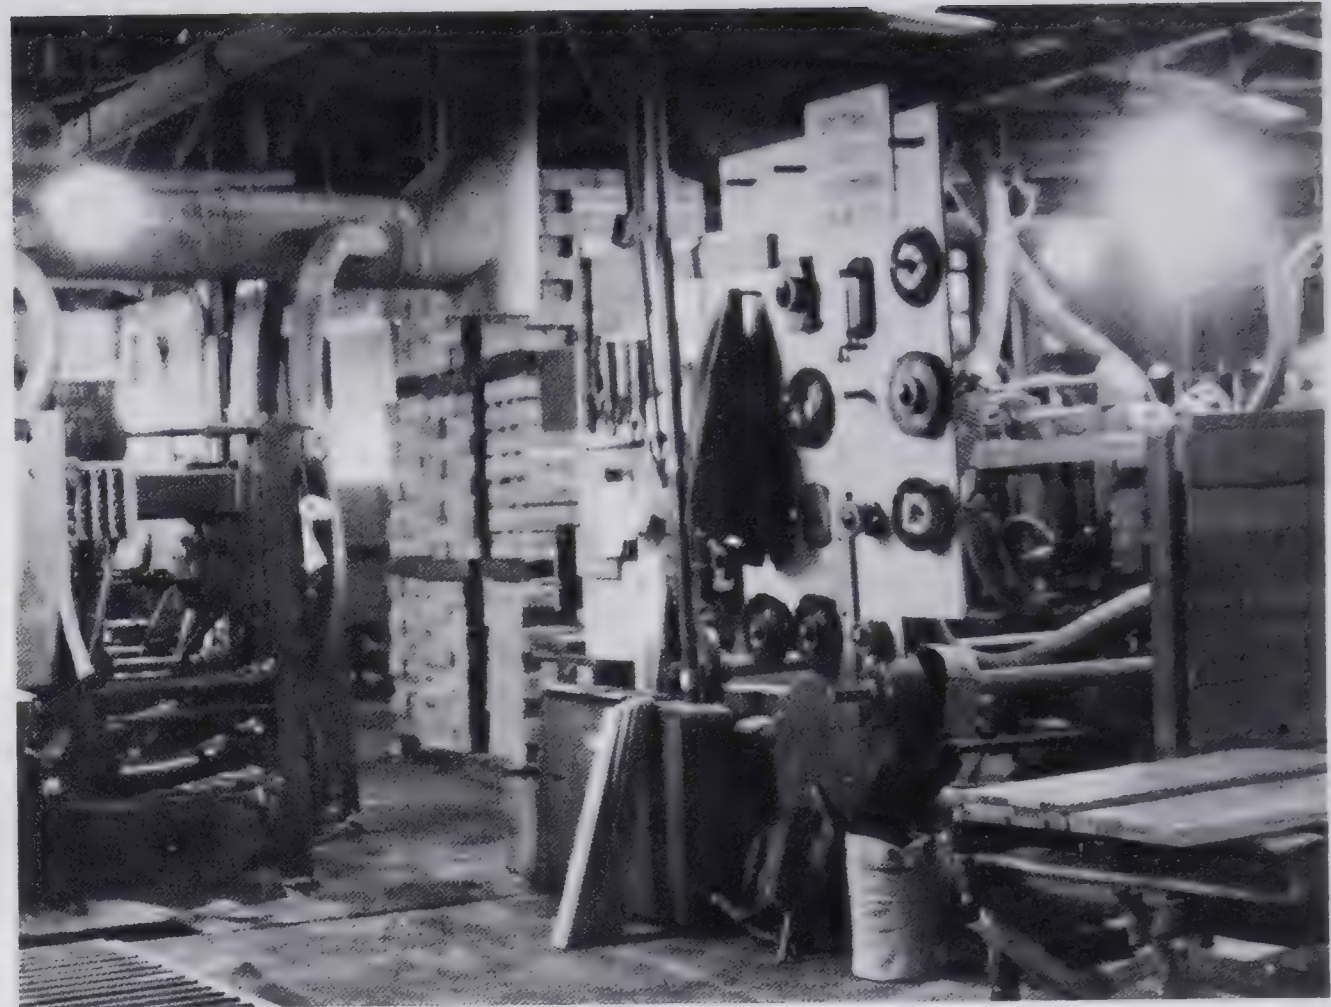

HARRIS PINE MILLS

The whir of the saw, the smell of varnish and dust, are all just the beginning of a product soon to be constructed and sold.

Tired muscles, and cash from the Business office, are some of the rewards the employees reap.

Having learned to work hard and hold a steady job, the students have learned responsibility, which will help in future employment.

CAFETERIA

The cafeteria is a familiar place on campus. Most students know it as the place to eat meals and, even if not hungry, to socialize.

An important workplace on campus, the cafe gives work to 63 students. Buffet service provides a good variety of choices and a chance to select type and amount of food we wish.

From salads to sociability, from entrees to employment, the cafeteria is a crucial campus center.

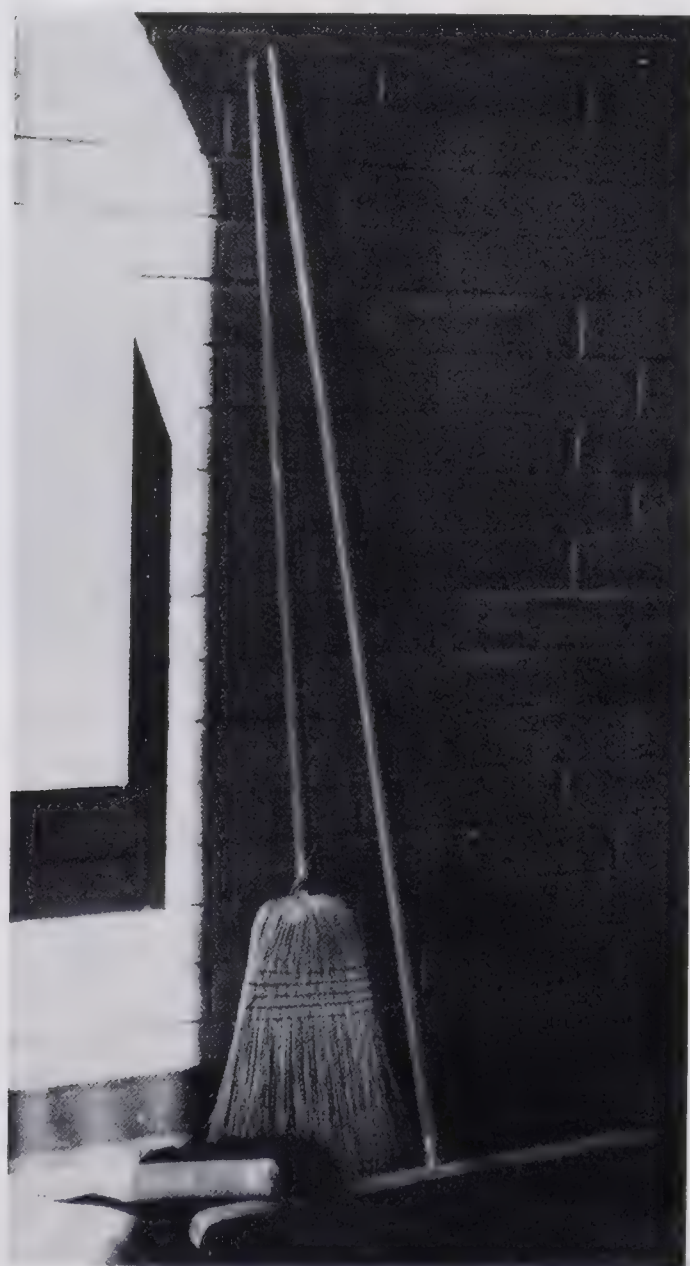

Rosemary Farver-Food Service Director
Gladys Langseth-Associate Food Service Director
Wilma Mundy-Associate Food Service Director

CAMPUS CARETAKERS

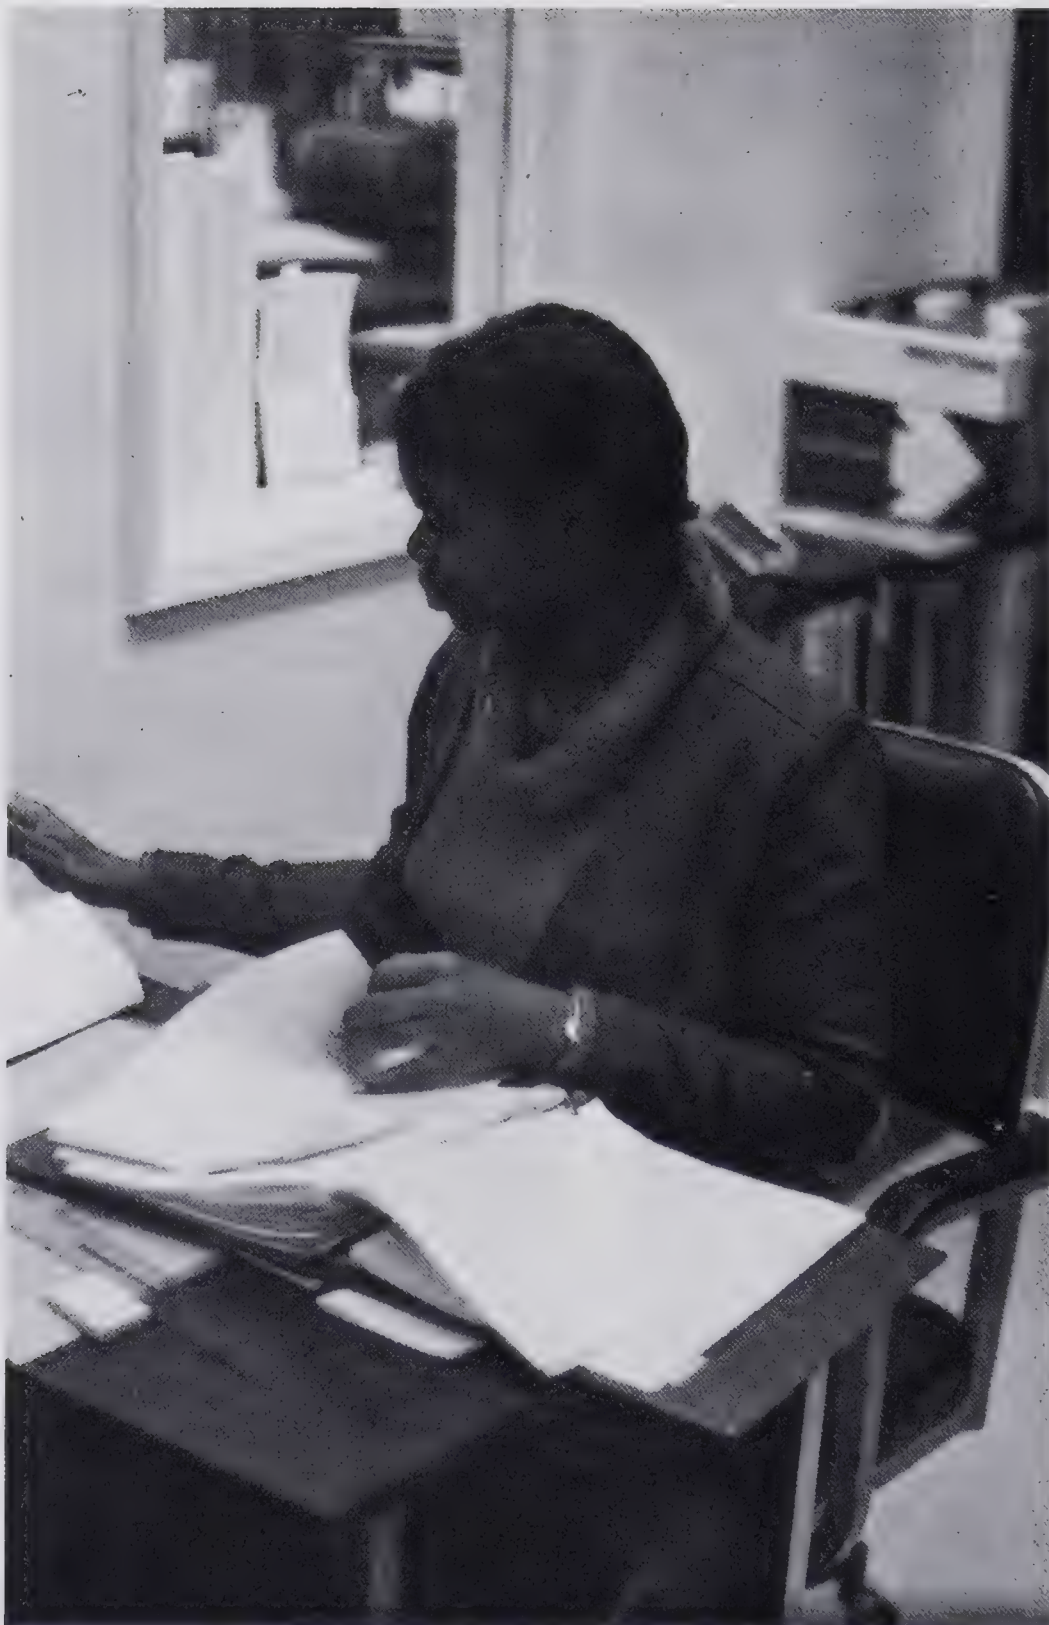

Have you ever wondered who keeps our campus neat and tidy? Mr. Mundy's grounds crew is up at the break of day mowing lawns and pulling weeds. Mrs. Ahlberg's janitors keep the halls and dorms clean and polished. And Mr. Ahlberg's bunch takes care of maintenance. Thanks to these people our campus is kept ship-shape.

READERS & SECRETARIES

Being a reader or secretary may seem like an easy job, but really it is a big responsibility. They do menial tasks such as sweeping floors, and emptying garbage, but these are nothing compared to their real responsibility of keeping the teachers in line and to class on time. The teachers are usually appreciative of the work done by the readers, because it saves them time.

GREENHOUSE

The chief product of AAA's Greenhouse is hydroponic lettuce, grown under artificial light and in nutrient solution. A crop matures under the watchful eyes of the growers and student employees. Students provided with meaningful work know the vital need of being careful. They know real satisfaction in seeing many cases of their product being trucked to Northwest grocers.

Mr. James Riner-Greenhouse owner.

AUBURN ADVENTIST ACADEMY

Thanks for a great year!!

Hello! Hello!

We'd like to say hello! We'd like to get to know you, first as a friend and second as a student.

You see, saying hello and being friendly are ways of life here at Walla Walla College. You can't walk on our campus for five minutes without faculty members or students smiling at you and greeting you with genuine "hellos."

And it goes much deeper than that. We really want to be your friend. For this life and the next.

It doesn't matter where you come from, how old you are, what your parents make or whether you're male or female.

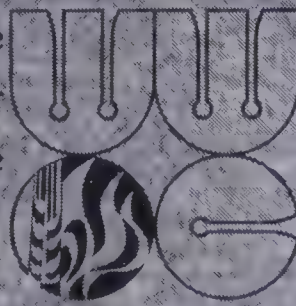

To us, you're not just a grade point average or an account number. You're a special person with special needs, talents and dreams. And we think we can help you fulfill them.

We know it may not be possible for you to come and visit us now. So, we've installed a toll-free information line. Call us up and say hello! Dial 1-800-541-8900 in the Continental U.S., or 1-800-572-8964 in Washington State.

If you're shy, you can write to us at: Public Relations, Walla Walla College, College Place, WA 99324.

Why not do both?

Remember, we're Walla Walla, the college with the double name.

HELLO WALK

One of the new churches financed and built by all of the members of the Washington Conference.

The Administration and the 54 pastors of the 68 churches and companies of the Washington Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists hope that each student and graduate of Auburn Adventist Academy will join us in the great task of soul-winning. The large cities of Western Washington are dying for want of a Savior. The blessings of witnessing will come to each of us as we reach out and share the Truths about Jesus Christ to the waiting throng.

Our prayer for you is that we may all work together to finish bringing the message of hope to the lost of our conference.

Glenn Aufderhar, President; Lenard Jaecks, Executive and Ministerial Secretary; Roy Wesson, Treasurer.
